NINE VESSELS OF AXIS BURNED OR SCUTTLED AND FIFTEEN SEIZED

Latin American Governments Follow Lead of United States in Closing In to Prevent Sabotage In Their Ports—Peruvian Warships Chase Craft Fleeing From Callao

(By The Canadian Press)

NINE Axis merchantmen totaling 44,468 tons were burned or scuttled by their crews in Latin American ports Tuesday while fifteen others, aggregating 88,432 tons, were taken in protective custody to forestall sabotage.

The twenty-four-hour toll thus was brought to eleven ships destroyed and sixteen seized as Latin American Governments followed suit on the lead of the United States in seizing Axis and Danish ships last week-end.

SINKING IN RIVER

As Mexican naval detachments closed in to seize twelve Axis ships harbored at Tampico and Vera Cruz totaling 71,687 tons, the captain of the 2,005-ton Italian tanker Atlas, Lelio Sazzi, had his crew open the seacocks and the vessel was slowly sinking in the Panuco River at Tampico. He explained his action thus: "I have fulfilled my duty and the instructions from the Government not to let the ship fall into foreign hands, possibly English."

Three Italian tankers and a German cargo-passenger ship were burned in Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, and the Government took over three undamaged Italian vessels and one small German passenger ship and arrested 325 Axis sailors. Two German ships were burned at Callao, Peru, after a Peruvian cruiser prevented their escape, and another German vessel was scuttled in Paita, Peru.

Flames burst from the German steamship Cerigo in the Guayas River at Guayaquil, Ecuador, Tuesday. A swastika flag hung from the

PROSECUTION IS ORDERED

U.S. Justice Department to Take Criminal Action Against Saboteurs

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP).—In the face of Axis demands for the release of thirty ships and their crews seized by the United States, the Justice Department late today ordered immediate criminal prosecutions in all cases of sabotage.

With German and Italian notes of protest against the seizures facing certain rejection, other Western Hemisphere countries raced against a widespread scuttling campaign to get possession of Axis merchantmen in their waters.

On the basis of coast guard reports that one of the two German and at least twenty of the twenty-nine Italian vessels in United States waters had been seriously crippled by their crews, Attorney-General Robert Jackson ordered district attorneys at the various ports to begin prosecution under a law penalizing the sabotage of any ship, foreign or domestic, in territorial waters.

No action was planned against the crews of thirty-nine seized Danish ships.

HUNDREDS ARRESTED

United States immigration officials have arrested 875 officers and seamen from the seized Axis ships, and officials indicated that the sabotage charges would be filed against the masters and as many of the sailors as might have been directly involved. They would face maximum penalties of twenty years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

State Secretary Hull at his press conference made it evident that the Axis protests would in no way influence the action of the Government.

DOLLAR PARITY RUMOR DENIED

Finance Minister Knows of No Negotiation for New Exchange Basis

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—Finance Minister Ilsley told The Canadian Press today that as far as he knew no negotiations are in progress or planned for an exchange agreement with the United States whereby the United States would accept the Canadian dollar at par in purchases in that country. Rumors of such an agreement were heard in New York today.

Trade between the two countries is almost entirely based on the official exchange rate of approximately 10 per cent discount on Canadian dollars in United States funds, maintained by the Foreign Exchange Control Board of Canada.

OPINIONS DIFFER

Officials here said there was difference of opinion in Canada as to the advantage to this country of bringing Canadian dollars to par. While removal of the discount would help in payments for war purchases, they said, the discount provides Canadian industry with additional protection in the Canadian market for Canadian-made goods in competition with goods brought in from United States.

The discount also results in Canadian exports of gold, newsprint and other goods shipped to the United States fetching 10 per cent more in Canadian dollars to the firms producing them than would be the case if there was parity between the two currencies.

Peru Prohibits Operations of News Agency

LIMA, Peru, April 1 (AP).—Peru tonight barred the German News Agency, "Transocean," from operations in this country on the ground that its dispatches are "spreading news that may disturb the good international relations of Peru."

The Interior Ministry's decree added that the agency might also "hurt the national sentiments of other countries and affect our democratic institutions. Therefore it is resolved to cancel the permit given Transocean to operate in national territory as a news agency."

HALIFAX SPEECH AS WHITE PAPER

Churchill Says Address in Full Accord With General Outlook Of Government

LONDON, April 1 (CP). — Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today that the speech delivered by Lord Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, in New York March 25, will be published as a "white paper," the British Broadcasting Corporation reported.

Lord Halifax's New York speech advocated world-wide economic collaboration after the war.

Mr. Churchill said "this admirable speech is in full accord with the general outlook of the Government.

"As Lord Halifax said, it is not possible to draw up detailed plans for the future structure of the community of nations, and it is not my intention to produce at this moment a catalogue of war and peace aims."

Aircraft of Navy Plays Vital Part In Great Battle

Captain of H.M.S. Formidable Recounts Events in Splendid Victory Over Italian Fleet West of Crete—Three British Battleships Steam From Alexandria to Join Historic Action

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALEXANDRIA, April 1 (AP).—The Formidable, Britain's crack new aircraft carrier, arrived in port today unscratched after her bombers sent three torpedoes into the Italian battleship Vittorio Veneto in the battle of the Ionian Sea last week-end.

The Rome radio had claimed that the giant ship suffered "three direct hits." She showed no scars in port today.

British pilots, braving an incredible barrage of fire from the Vittorio Veneto and escorting cruisers and destroyers, persistently attacked the battleship with torpedoes in the preliminary naval engagement west of Crete. On March 28 the Veneto was seen down heavily astern. The airmen reported she was heading for Messina or Taranto, her quarter-deck awash and apparently "in very bad condition." Her speed was estimated at eight knots.

FIFTY-FIFTY CHANCE

Captain Arthur Lathouche Bisset of the Formidable, whose family now reside in Halifax, told me: "My opinion is that there is at least a fifty-fifty chance the Veneto is lost."

Returning aboard the Formidable, after her previous Mediterranean sweep in which she demonstrated her ability to give the German dive-bombers an answer in shells, I heard from the captain and Rear Admiral Denis Boyd, of Illustrious fame, how the aircraft carrier's planes attacked the Veneto.

MILITARY AID IS AUTHORIZED

Roosevelt Announces Billion Dollars Worth of Equipment to Be Shipped

WASHINGTON, April 1 (CP).—President Roosevelt announced today that orders totaling $1,080,000,000 had been authorized under the Lease-Lend Act for military equipment to be supplied to Britain and other democracies combatting aggressors.

This is part of the $7,000,000,000 voted by Congress and will include army and navy equipment, aviation supplies, trucks and automobiles, agricultural goods and miscellaneous items.

The President's announcement, made at his press conference demonstrated that both phases of the lend-lease system have gone into operation, the $7,000,000,000 long-range industrial programme and the emergency shipment of military supplies built for the United States army and navy, and for which a total limit of $1,300,000,000 was set by Congress.

The President declined to be drawn into a discussion of how the military supplies would reach the war zones beyond saying that is still under consideration. This was taken as an indication the Government still has not made up its mind on convoying, although the subject has been mentioned in Congress.

HAS PLANS FOR FEDERATED STATE

Polish Leader Arrives in Canada —Will Pay Visit to President Roosevelt Soon

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—A spokesman for General Wyadyslaw Sikorski, newly-arrived in Canada from Britain, said tonight the Polish leader would discuss the post-war formation of a joint Polish-Czechoslovakian state with President Roosevelt when he visits Washington in the near future.

The basis for the federation has already been prepared, the press was told by Major Victor Cazalet, member of the British House of Commons and liaison man between General Sikorski and Prime Minister Churchill. The general declined to make any statement until after he has seen Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Major Cazalet said the General wished to say nothing as yet about a plan to recruit a Polish legion in Canada, "although of course they want more men, and his mission concerns citizens of both Canada and the United States."

NAZI PLANE CRASHES

DUBLIN, April 1 (AP).—A German plane crashed tonight in County Wexford and its crew was interned, the Eire Government Information Bureau announced.

New Type of Bomb Proves Devastating In Attack on Emden

Shipyards and Shipping Smashed by R.A.F.—German Destroyer Hit and Believed Sunk Off Netherlands—Enemy Bombers Downed

LONDON, April 1 (CP).—The use of a new type of bomb was revealed by the Air Ministry today in announcing the results of a strong R.A.F. offensive over enemy-occupied territory yesterday and last night.

The nature of the new bombs was not revealed, but the Air Ministry announcement said they produced results which "appeared to be devastating" in a raid on the German port and industrial city of Emden.

The announcement did not say whether the new bombs were used in other raids, but the Ministry of Information quoted a pilot who took part in the raid on Emden as saying he saw "houses take to the air" when the bombs burst.

"Masses of debris flying through

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1941, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, April 1 (By Cable).—The victory of Matapan, as The Times calls Admiral Cunningham's smashing defeat of the Italian Navy, leaves the British fleet now the unchallengeable master of the Eastern Mediterranean.

Its effect on the general strategy of the war will be valuable. In the event of a major campaign in the Balkans the British lines of communication in the Mediterranean will be only less vital than that across the Atlantic.

The outcome will convey its own meaning to the Japanese Foreign Minister, who has just arrived in Rome to discuss with Mussolini the interesting situation in the "Mare Nostrum."

The Times' Athens correspondent says it is believed there that the battleship Vittorio Veneto was unable to reach port. The Times' Alexandria correspondent says the battle in which the British lost not a single sailor must be regarded as one of the most decisive in the history of naval warfare.

Foreign Secretary Eden and General Sir John Dill are back in Athens, says The Times' diplomatic correspondent. It is considered that Germany is likely to reply quickly to the Yugoslavs barring of the door against her.

There can be no certainty whether Greece, Yugoslavia or Turkey will be attacked first, but it is clear, says The Times' correspondent, that the best defence lies in a unified policy among the three threatened countries.

Greece has already been given great help from Great Britain and Yugoslavia has been promised it.

Turkey, calmly on the defensive, knows that she will be given a full measure of assistance. The Yugoslavs have shown they will safeguard their independence, and the Nazi propaganda campaign against them grows more and more bitter and scurrilous. The usual lies are told of atrocities against Germans now fleeing from Yugoslavia on orders from Berlin.

Other tales suggest falsely that the Croats are about to break away from the rest of Yugoslavia.

Italian resistance in Western Ethiopia has collapsed, says The Times' Nairobi correspondent, though it may take weeks to mop up the isolated posts.

The Italians are in deadly fear of the natives, whom they have so savagely ill-treated. Addis Ababa is filling with refugees, and the Duke of Aosta has now to decide whether he will defend the Ethiopian capital.

Any proposal for an armistice will have to be made by him direct to the British commanders now in Ethiopia.

STRIKE CALLED IN FORD PLANT

Governor of Michigan Asked To Clear Men From Rouge River Works

DETROIT April 2 (Wednesday) (AP).—The United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) declared a strike today at the vast Ford Company's Rouge plant and most of the 20,000 men involved in the work stoppage, said union officials, had left the factory and prepared to take up picket positions.

An aide of Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner declared that "everything was peaceful and orderly."

Governor Van Wagoner was called early last night by Dearborn City officials, who requested State troopers to evacuate from the plant between 7,000 and 8,000 workers, whom they described as "sitdown strikers."

At the time of the strike order, only the foundry and part of the dye shop were operating.

Informed sources said the production tieup would have little effect on the company's National Defence orders, except for work on army trucks. The trucks are being built at the tractor plants and orders for bomber parts are to be produced at a new plant at Ypsilanti, Mich., for which ground is now being cleared.

Harry H. Bennett, Ford personnel director, declared that the "union men have seized the plant illegally . . . I have called on the Governor to have State Police enforce the law to evacuate these men from our plants . . . It is up to the Government to see that th law is enforced."

French at Lyon Cheer Yugoslavia

LYON, France, April 1 (AP).—Five hundred persons, including many students, demonstrated today before the United States Consulate, cheering Yugoslavia and President Roosevelt, singing "La Marseillaise" and calling for the American flag.

The crowd saluted the flag when consular officials hung it out. Police stood by without interfering.

CAPITAL OF ITALIAN ERITREA CAPTURED BY IMPERIAL FORCE

Admiral Has Thanks for Greek Navy

LONDON, April 1 (CP).—Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham, commander-in-chief of the British fleet in the Mediterranean, has expressed his thanks to the Greek Navy for "the precision and speed with which it moved to participate in the recent naval battle," the British Broadcasting Corporation reported tonight.

Naval sources at London said today "some" destroyers from the Greek fleet participated in the Mediterranean battle last Friday and Saturday in which three, possibly four, Italian cruisers and two, possibly three, destroyers were sunk.

SIR ARTHUR SALTER ARRIVES IN CANADA

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, April 1 (CP). — Sir Arthur Salter, Parliamentary Secretary to the British Ministry of Shipping, arrived here today on his way to Washington at the request of Prime Minister Churchill to discuss with the United States "matters of shipping and shipbuilding."

Sir Arthur said he had with him plans by which the co-operation between the United States and Great Britain in shipping matters would be accelerated.

OPERATIONS OF ARMY OUTLINED

Minister Says Complete Harmony Exists Between British and Canadian Forces

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—Complete harmony exists between the commands of Canadian forces in England and those of the United Kingdom forces, Defence Minister Ralston told the House of Commons today.

He said the Canadian Corps had been acting for some time "in combination" with the United Kingdom home forces under their commander-in-chief, Sir Alan Brooke. But any decision to move Canadians out of Great Britain to a new scene of war operations would require the approval of the Canadian Government.

Such approval had been sought and given in the case of the proposed move to Norway last Spring and the move to France last Summer, the minister said.

UNDER COMBINED COMMAND

An order in council passed last April 3 provides that Canadian military and air forces in the United Kingdom may be detailed by an officer so authorized by the Government to serve in combination with the home forces, and thereby come under combined command.

Lieut.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Corps, was one of the officers so designated and he detailed the Canadian Corps to act in combination with the home forces.

Senior combatant officers of Canadian Military Headquarters and of the Canadians in England who are not a part of the corps, have not been called upon to detail any part of their commands for the combined service.

General McNaughton is directly responsible to the Canadian Government, and through it to the Canadian people, for the men under his command, the minister said.

Fall of Asmara Opens Way for Thrust to Colony's Only Good Harbor—British Troops Now in Position for Possibly Fatal Blow at Italy in Eritrea

Move Toward Addis Ababa Progressing With Rapidity

CAIRO, April 1 (AP).—British and Imperial forces today took Asmara, the capital of Italian Eritrea, general headquarters announced here, and thus opened the way for a thrust by rail and motor roads to Massaua, a Red Sea port and the colony's only good harbor.

The Italians fought a delaying action in defence of the city since the fall, March 26, of the heights of Cheren, the capital's natural protectors, and its loss put the British troops in position to strike a perhaps fatal blow at all Italian resistance in Eritrea.

In Ethiopia, a British column was driving on toward Addis Ababa, the capital, from the strategic base provided by captured Diredawa.

DESERTERS UNRULY

From Diredawa came official news that British forces entering the town had found its remaining Italian inhabitants "being injured" by deserters from the disorganized Fascist colonial army.

The extent of this native rising against the Italians, who had conquered Ethiopia in 1936 and now stand to lose it all—was not stated, but it was said that, while the British restored order, they could not prevent some Italian casualties.

Asmara's fall put the second Italian colonial capital in British hands—Mogadiscio in Italian Somaliland having been taken February 26 — and apparently brought nearer the liquidation of the whole African campaign.

SLOWED BY DAMAGE

The British command said that advances in Eritrea and Ethiopia were slowed somewhat by extensive damage to communications wrought by the retreating Italians, and re-

CLOSE PLANT AFTER RIOTS

Twenty-Two Injured in Clash At Milwaukee—Matter In Federal Hands

MILWAUKEE, April 1 (AP).—The Allis-Chalmers manufacturing plant, scene of a three-hour battle between police and strikers in which twenty-two were injured today, will cease production tomorrow at the request of Governor Julius Heil.

Max W. Babb, president of the huge West Allis firm, said he had ordered the plant closed at the urgent request of Sheriff Joseph Shinners and of Governor Heil.

The situation now is "in the hands of the Federal Government for action," Babb stated.

Governor Heil simultaneously announced that he had wired President Roosevelt that a "mob had created disorders beyond the control of all peace officers which can be assembled by the combined forces of the state, county and city."

ON DEFENCE ORDERS

The order closing the plant—which had been reopened Friday at the request of Government officials to speed production on $45,000,000 in defence orders—came following the second outbreak of violence in the seventy-day strike of a C.I.O. local.

Union strikers, using bricks and rocks, tangled with peace officers

JAPANESE ORDER YANGTZE CLOSED

Travel on Waterway Prohibited for At Least Four Weeks—Troops Being Moved

SHANGHAI, April 2 (Wednesday) (AP).—Japanese authorities virtually closed the Yangtze River today when reliable sources reported permits for travel on the waterway would not be issued for at least four weeks.

It was understood, too, that Italian, German and Chinese river steamers would be prohibited from stopping at Yangtze Delta ports.

No reasons were given for the action, but the move indicated Japan planned further large scale troop transfers such as have been in progress for the past two months.

Young third class troops have been replacing veterans, who have been withdrawn and shipped to undisclosed destinations.

Anti-German Feeling Gains in Yugoslavia; Army Grows Rapidly

Government Circles See Possibility of Yugoslav-Turk-Soviet Neutrality Declaration—Nazi Barrage of Words Arouses Indignation

BELGRADE, April 1 (AP).—Additional thousands of Serbs, Croats, Bosnians and Montenegrans poured into the cities of Yugoslavia tonight to join the army as popular indignation flared in response to a German press and radio campaign against this kingdom.

With Yugoslav-German relations in a precarious condition, Government circles reported that Yugoslavia, Turkey and Soviet Russia were seriously considering a joint neutrality declaration aimed at producing the strongest possible physiological effect.

Railway stations throughout the country, however, were jammed with foreigners of a dozen nationalities, all frantic to be on their way. Troops with fixed bayonets stood guard to enforce a Government order against panicky evacuation by Yugoslav citizens.

HEED PREMIER'S WARNING

Most Yugoslavs heeded Premier Dusan Simovic's stern warning to stay at home and prepare to defend the country with their lives if need be, but trains to the south have been jammed during the last few days with both refugees and soldiers.

The Government issued a restrained denial of German charges that terrorism had been unleashed against German residents.

Diplomats, Government officials and plain citizens alike expressed

COMMISSIONER TAKING OFFICE

Malcolm MacDonald Says Canada's Contribution Impresses British

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald prepared tonight to take up the office of Britain's High Commissioner in a country whose "comradeship" has "powerfully sustained" his people in their fight for democracy.

The successor to Sir Gerald Campbell at Ottawa told shortly after his arrival in Canada from England of his belief that the "spontaneous co-operation of the free peoples of the British Commonwealth . . . will gain a glorious victory," and said Canada's contribution has "tremendously impressed everybody over there."

NOT A POLITICIAN

The press found Mr. MacDonald, forty-year-old son of former Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, a short, dark, courteous man in sombre garb who sidestepped ticklish questions with the explanation "I'm a commissioner now, not a politician."

In an interview with reporters and in a written statement issued later, he made known the enthusiasm of all England for Canada's gift of manpower and materials.

Mr. MacDonald's arrival marked his first visit to Canada since 1932 when he attended the Imperial conference at Ottawa as liaison man between the British Legation and the press. He will be joined at Ottawa in the near future by his sister, Sheila.

AUSTRALIA PLANS BIG PAYROLL TAX

Levy in Part to Meet Cost of Government-Sponsored Child Endowment Scheme

CANBERRA, April 1 (AP). — The Australian House of Representatives tonight passed a bill imposing a payroll tax, which will provide the greater portion of finances required for a Government-sponsored child endowment plan which is scheduled to begin operation on July 1.

The endowment plan would grant each child five shillings weekly, and would affect approximately 1,000,000 Australian children. The plan would have an estimated cost of £13,000,000 annually.

A special committee studying the plan suggested that it should be paid for partly by a 2 1-2 per cent tax on employers with wage bills exceeding £1,040 annually, partly by removal of tax exemption for children from higher incomes and partly from general revenue. The amount necessary from general revenue has been estimated at £2,000,000.

Council Makes Offer To Medical Society For Relief Patients

Mayor and Aldermen Ready to Pay $700 Per Month, But Doctors Hold Out for $750—Racing Bids Are Rejected

ON recommendation of the health welfare committee, the City Council decided at a meeting yesterday afternoon to offer the Victoria Medical Society $700 per month for the care of indigent patients. Further negotiations were indicated.

A letter from members of the society offered to accept $750 per month, with a clause that any agreement could be terminated on two months' written notice. Members also agreed to treat inmates of the Aged Men's Home on receipt of instructions from the city medical health officer.

"It is up to us to barter with the Provincial Government, because their share of the cost of treating indigent patients would be less," commented Alderman John A. Worthington, chairman of the health committee.

"I do not think we are getting a bargain," declared E. G. Snowden, city welfare officer. "I think a per capita basis would be best, and that the amount we are offering the society is far too much. When persons receive free medical attention there is often a temptation to run to a doctor," he added.

MUST BE CARED FOR

"An ordinary man often neglects to see a doctor or go to a hospital because he is afraid of the bills. Indigents must be cared for," Alderman R. A. C. Dewar contended.

"Some time ago an out-patient ward was suggested at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. Has the health committee considered the suggestion?" Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan inquired. "Doctors said they would not agree to such a ward," Alderman B. J. Gadsden replied. Mr. Snowden terminated the discussion by remarking that he understood the Provincial Government would only make a grant for medical aid on behalf of those in receipt of relief.

A communication from the Sidney Roofing & Paper Company, Limited, suggested that the City Council supply the plant with a maximum of 50,000,000 gallons of water per month for twenty years at a flate rate of two cents per thousand gallons, subject to a minimum charge of $400 per month. The water board, also headed by Alderman Worthington, was asked to investigate and report on the proposal.

NEW WATER RATES

Instructions were given the city solicitor to amend the Water Rates By-Law to provide for a bi-monthly charge of forty cents for each building in a motor bungalow court, and limitation of water meters to a size of two inches in cases where only one was used by a court. Kenneth Reid, of the street lighting department, was asked to carry out work in connection with a survey on electrolysis damage to water mains. He will receive a bonus of $25 per month.

Property sales proposed by the lands committee, in charge of Alderman R. A. C. Dewar were: A house at 327 Quebec Street, $500, and another at the southwest corner of Bridge and John Streets, $500; vacant lots at the east side of Oswego Street, between Niagara Street and Dallas Road, $125; east side of Asquith Street, between Haultain Street and Kings Road, $50; three lots on the north side of Dunedin Street, south of Gorge Road, $450; three lots on the east side of Government Street, between Discovery and Chatham Streets, $900, and a lot on the east side of Roberta Street, $400.

FIX TAX RATES

A by-law to fix the tax rate at 38 mills on 100 per cent of the assessed value of land and 65 per cent of the value of improvements thereon was introduced and read. Other by-laws passed provided for a tax rate of five cents per front foot for the maintenance of cluster lights, and one cent per square foot for boulevard maintenance.

On motion of the finance committee, headed by Alderman Morgan, it was agreed to reduce the Bank of Montreal overdraft of $486,000 by a payment of $86,000.

All bids for the racing concession at Willows Park were rejected and deposits ordered returned to the bidders.

Authority was given every standing committee to spend $50 on city work or business without recourse to the council. It was decided to spend $50 on advertising the city in B.P.O. Elks convention programme.

A B.C. Electric pole line extension on Discovery Street was approved. A crushed rock sidewalk was ordered for Lee Avenue at a cost of $315 for 750 feet.

OBJECTS TO TERMS

A letter from D. Cowan objected to terms imposed by the zoning board of appeal for the conversion of 303 Government Street into a two-family dwelling. The council thought nothing could be done, but requested a report from the building inspector.

A suggestion from the public works committee that the by-law for the collection and disposal of refuse be revised was returned to the committee for an explanation. The committee was given power to act on a suggestion that L. J. Eekman, assistant to the building inspector, be given two months' leave of absence. An application for two thirty-foot sidewalk crossings on the east side of Gordon Street was handed to the committee.

A petition from a number of mothers urging that the Rock-a-Bye Nursery at 602 Broughton Street be given financial assistance was turned over to the finance committee. Alderman Morgan thought the institution was conducted on a fee basis, and the council had no legal power to make a grant.

SUNRISE SERVICE

Aldermen Morgan and Worthington were asked to represent the council during the Easter Sunday sunrise service to be conducted atop Mount Tolmie by the Victoria Ministerial Association. The public works committee was asked to report on an offer of Pemberton & Son, Ltd., to sell a lot for $75 in order that Carrick Street might be cut through to Shelbourne Street. A request of the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council that the streets be illuminated during the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Federation convention here from April 16 to 18 was granted.

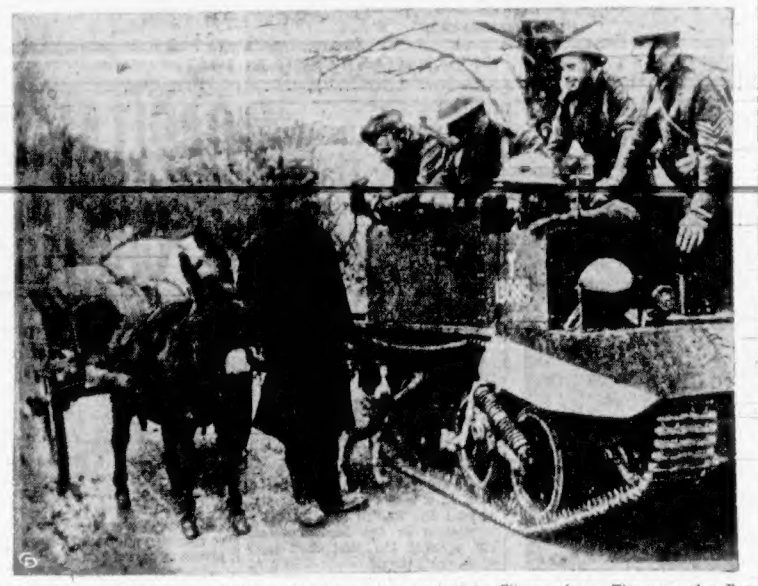

In committee of the whole, the council listened to H. E. Hunnings of the Mount Tolmie Sand & Gravel Company, Ltd., ask for reasons why the lower tenders of the company had not been accepted for sand and gravel. The public works committee was asked to report. "Pit run gravel according to our by-law is not suitable for concrete house foundations," the building inspector explained. "I could not recommend material that has not been washed," the city engineer added.

Kiwanis Official Addresses Club

J. F. Scruton, past president of the Montreal Kiwanis Club and a director of the Toronto Kiwanis Club, speaking at the regular luncheon meeting of the local organization at the Empress Hotel yesterday, stressed the value of good will and the application of principle as against material success in business as in international relationship.

The speaker, who was introduced by Oscar Johnson, Toronto, a visitor at the meeting, indicated that business conditions across Canada were influenced to a tremendous degree by the war. He said that with apparent victory in sight, business conditions now were on a definite upswing after the earlier uncertainty.

Stop for Chat in Country Lane

An interesting contrast is provided by this picture, just received by Clipper plane. The crew of a Bren gun carrier chat with a local inhabitant who has halted his donkey cart and asked the progress of the war. The picture was made somewhere in Northern Ireland, where British troops are ready to repel a German attempt at invasion.

MUNICIPALITY PASSES BILL

Estimates for Year Are Discussed by Esquimalt Council at Meeting

Estimated expenditures for 1941, totaling $82,304.45, were passed at the regular meeting of the Esquimalt Council Monday night, confirming the mill rate of thirty-seven mills for the forthcoming year, as passed at the last regular meeting.

With an assessment of $1,993,215 for taxation, and at the current rate, with an estimated 87 per cent collectable, the council judged that collections for the year would total $64,261.59.

Expenses figured for the year, including $24,000 for the schools, $53,162.16 for general and police expenses, and $5,142.29 for past debt, totaled $82,304.45, less a surplus of $41,519.11, leaving $23,476.25 available for public works during 1941.

Revenue from all sources other than tax levy for the year was estimated at $47,541.04.

LIABILITIES STATED

Liabilities marked on the yearly estimates indicated the board of school trustees costs totaled $4,441.71; tax sale registration fees amounted to $55; deposits, $480; accounts payable, $773.60, and 1941 taxes paid in 1940, $271.62.

A few of the changes in estimated expenses, as compared to 1940, included a rise from $150.56 to $250 for election costs, insurance fees from $399.59 to $675 in 1941, and an increase from $377.66 for street lighting expenses in 1940 to $1,200 in 1941, which included a new power house.

A marked decrease in fire department plant costs, from $1,899.70 to $500, was shown.

INJURED ON WALK

A letter was read pertaining to an accident to an individual on a municipal sidewalk, asking that the municipality pay medical costs resulting from an injured knee, was referred to the municipal solicitor.

It was decided to remove the swings in Memorial Park, and place them elsewhere in the district, on receipt of complaints from neighbors of excessive noise day and night.

SELLS OLD LUMBER

The council sanctioned the sale of the lumber on the old Gun Club property for $5, providing the property was left in clean condition.

An offer of $200 for a lot on the east side of Victoria View Avenue, known as Lot 9, was refused as being too low a price.

Sale of a lot on Nelson Street, known as Lot 21, Block E, for $75 was approved, and an offer of $60 for a lot on Greenwood and Lampson Streets was accepted. Two other lots were sold, including one on Greenwood Avenue for $125 and one on Old Esquimalt Road for $150.

Other business included the passing of a new motor vehicle route by-law, a zoning amendment, and the consideration of a tax rate by-law and a percentage addition by-law.

A recommendation urging the co-operation of the garbage department in disposing of all kinds of refuse was endorsed and that the garbage collection authorities be so advised.

HOME MADE

Mrs. Jones (showing her guest a home-made radio): "My husband made the cabinet as well."

"Oh, did he work to a design?" asked the guest.

"No," said Mrs. Jones. "He made it out of his head and he's got enough wood left over for a small table."

Matsuoka Ends Round of Talks

ROME, April 1 (CP).—Two hundred Italian schoolboys demonstrated tonight in front of the United States Embassy, guarded by steel-helmeted Italian troops, a few hours after Mussolini and the Japanese Foreign Minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, greeted a cheering crowd of 150,000 at the Piazza Venezia.

Police chased the youths away from the Embassy, on the Via Veneto, and the troops were not called into action.

Matsuoka's appearance with Il Duce concluded a round of talks with Italy's leaders.

stern of the 1,200-ton vessel as a fire-fighting boat approached, but no sign of activity could be observed aboard.

Two others which fled from Callao Monday night were located 110 miles at sea by Peruvian navy planes, Peruvian warships were reported speeding to the scene.

Peruvian troops meanwhile seized the hangar, workshop and two transport planes of the German air line, Lufthansa, at a Lima airport, and operation of the line in Peru was reported forbidden.

Two axis vessels were burned by their crews Monday in Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, shortly after that country took the ships into custody. The Costa Rican Government last night considered seizing German funds on deposit at San Jose to compensate for the fires. The crews were charged with arson.

SEIZED IN HAVANA

Cuba took over an Italian ship in Havana Harbor Monday night, and yesterday the Mexican navy took charge of a German and an Italian ship in Vera Cruz and prepared to take nine Italians and another German vessel in Tampico.

An informant in the Mexican Navy Ministry said it was an act of solidarity with the United States, which over the week-end took charge of sixty-nine German, Italian and Danish vessels.

the air were outlined against the glow of fires," the Air Ministry communique said.

The R.A.F. offensive sweep left two tankers afire and sinking off Le Havre while a German destroyer was believed to have foundered off the Frisian Islands, on the northern coast of the Netherlands.

Bremen also came under the bomb-sights of the R.A.F. raiders with shipbuilding yards the principal targets. Smaller scale raids also were made on Bremerhaven and Oldenberg and the German-held harbor of Rotterdam.

The sorties cost the R.A.F. two planes.

The German destroyer damaged was said by the Air Ministry News Service to have been escorting a small convoy. When last seen she was listing heavily and "black smoke was pouring from the stern," the News Service said.

Later yesterday afternoon another German convoy was sighted, and a direct hit clouded one of the ships in quantities of black smoke, the service said.

Gun emplacements and camouflaged buildings among the sand dunes on one of the Frisian Islands also were attacked.

"German troops were on parade in front of one of the buildings as our aircraft roared over only fifty feet above ground," the service added.

MANY ON GROUND

"They ran for cover, but our aircraft came back again to see many of the troops lying on the ground and the others immediately scattered. An army cook in white scuttled into some bushes near at hand.

"On another of the islands our aircraft found a long, grey army hut with many German troops standing around it. A direct hit on the hut produced volumes of black smoke. During this attack our aircraft came down to ten feet."

A German bomber crashed in flames in Southwestern England today, and three bodies were recovered. The Information Ministry said another bomber was destroyed in the Midlands.

The Ministries of Air and Home Security issued this communique Tuesday night:

ENEMY ACTIVITY

"There has been a certain amount of enemy air activity during the day, and bombs have been dropped by a single enemy aircraft on a number of points near the South and East Coast.

"These attacks have been generally ineffective, but at two points on the South Coast some damage and casualties were caused, a small number of persons being killed.

"Two enemy bombers have been destroyed during the day."

ANTI-NAZI FEELING MOUNTING RAPIDLY

grave concern over the implications of the Nazi word barrage.

Yugoslav aircraft circled over the capital all day, and young King Peter moved to consolidate his hold by abolishing the Senate—composed mainly of allies of the old Cvetkovic Government of capitulation—and by promoting to high ranks the army men who engineered last Thursday's overthrow of the "Axis" Government.

HEADED FOR FRONTIERS

New Yugoslav troop trains headed southeast and north to the frontiers. The movement gained momentum when travelers from Bulgaria told of mass troop movements in that Axis-occupied country.

A passenger on the famed Simplon Express, one of the best trains in Europe, said it was delayed sixteen hours en route to Istanbul by the movement of German and Bulgarian troops toward the Turkish and Yugoslav frontier.

He said thousands of German and Bulgarian soldiers were on the same troop trains and that all of Bulgaria was seething with military activity.

The Nazi expeditionary force, he said, is now heading most of its strength towards Yugoslavia and away from the Bulgarian-Greek border.

NAZI TANKS ASSEMBLING

There were diplomatic reports from Bucharest that a vast wedge of fast tanks was being driven into the corner of Rumania which juts into northeastern Yugoslavia.

A German source here claimed Berlin had rejected a Belgrade offer of "some verbal promises" in regard to the Axis pact signed by the old Yugoslav Government a week ago. He contended Germany was insisting on "an open offer of full and complete friendship with the Axis."

Many persons believed the Berlin version of "complete friendship" would mean demobilization of the Yugoslav army and possibly permission to transport German material and, later, soldiers, across this country.

PURSUES WAITING POLICY

BERLIN, April 1 (AP).—Germany officially pursued a waiting policy today on developments in Yugoslavia, but front-page charges in the press of abuses against Germans prepared the public for whatever action Hitler may plan.

One of the latest atrocity stories—and it was repeated by the Commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland—was a claim that a Yugoslav citizen of German birth had been branded on the face with a fiery swastika.

The return to Berlin of Viktor Von Heeren, the German minister to Yugoslavia, was cited as an "indication of the severity of the crisis." Authorized persons said the tension had "increased."

REDUCE WAR RISK RATE

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP).—British gunnery in the naval battle in the Mediterranean during the week-end had repercussions yesterday in the marine insurance field. Marine underwriters announced reductions in war risk rates to and from the eastern end of the Mediterranean and the Red Sea.

Seeks Creation of Great Shipbuilding Industry in Canada

Conservative Leader Asks Government to Review Position of Maritime Provinces—Navy Minister Says Trained Personnel Lacking

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—Establishment of a great commercial shipbuilding industry that would restore the glory of the last century to Nova Scotia shipyards was urged upon the Government by Opposition Leader Hanson in the House of Commons tonight.

"The people of Nova Scotia demonstrated in the last war that they could build steel ships of very large capacity," Mr. Hanson said.

"It can be done again and I ask the ministers to review the whole position in the interests of Nova Scotia and the Maritime Provinces. Let us get back to something of the position we once occupied in this country in relation to the sea."

His suggestion was made after Navy Minister Macdonald told the House that there were ample yards in Canada to handle all the present cargo and naval shipbuilding programme and that the only problem was lack of trained personnel.

PEOPLE NOT SATISFIED

Percy C. Black (Conservative, Cumberland) started the discussion when he said that the people of Nova Scotia were not satisfied with the Government's explanation of why Nova Scotia yards were not being used to a greater degree.

He said that during the last war steel ships up to 10,000 tons had been built in New Glasgow and that if the Federal and Provincial Governments acted they could get Nova Scotia yards operating to capacity.

Mr. Macdonald repeated the statement he made some weeks ago that there was no steel ship capacity available in Nova Scotia and that owners of yards building wooden ships had refused to bid on naval units which were within their capacity to handle.

GIVEN OPPORTUNITY

There had been an opportunity for Nova Scotia yards to build Fairmile boats and wooden mine sweepers, he said. They had either refused to bid on the orders or had made their prices so high they could not be accepted.

On the Fairmile order, three Nova Scotia builders out of twenty-five had bid and with one exception had been far beyond the prices quoted in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

On a project of $100,000 per unit the second and third Nova Scotia bids had been as much as $25,000 higher than the bids from British Columbia.

Opposition Leader Hanson said that the real trouble was that the Federal Government had no national shipbuilding policy. He contended that there was an opportunity now to re-establish the once great Nova Scotia shipbuilding industry and the Government should grasp it.

He urged that the whole matter should be reconsidered and studied by the Government.

DEMONSTRATE IN SOFIA'S STREETS

Bulgarian Students Sing Songs and Distribute Leaflets Round Royal Palace

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 1 (Passed by the Censor) (AP).—Bulgarian students belonging to Nationalist clubs held patriotic demonstrations today in the streets around the Royal Palace, singing songs and distributing leaflets.

BELGRADE, April 1 (AP).—Two neutral legations here tonight received diplomatic messages reporting that police charged a crowd of several hundred students and made many arrests today in Sofia, Bulgaria, to break up demonstrations in front of the Royal Palace in protest against German occupation of Bulgaria.

The police seized pamphlets described as "inflammatory."

The handbills were described as denouncing the Axis for lowering Bulgaria's living standards and imposing "heavy burdens" on the people. One set of leaflets appealed for closer co-operation with Soviet Russia.

ASSESSMENT FIGURES UP

Value of Land and Improvements in Saanich Set at $13,558,859

Assessments on land and improvements in Saanich have increased $787,108 over last year, W. A. Greene, municipal clerk, reported to the council last night. Total assessments for 1941 were placed at $13,558,859, as compared with $12,791,751 in 1940. In 1939 the figure was $11,963,741.

Total land assessment for 1941 was $5,529,419, compared with $3,460,316 last year. There was a slight drop in the farm land figure, but this was explained by the fact that several farm properties were being subdivided for residential lots.

This year also saw a decided increase in the value of improvements, which were assessed at $10,029,440, as compared with $9,331,435 in the previous twelve months, an increase of $698,007. This was a still further increase over 1939, when improvements were assessed at $8,660,980.

Total exemptions in 1941 came to $1,771,827, while the figure for 1940 was $1,778,796.

ACTUALLY TAXED

Total value actually taxed in 1940 was $7,659,462. This figure at the current tax rate of thirty-one mills on 100 per cent of land and 45 per cent of improvements brought in $237,433.25.

In 1939, when the forty-two mill rate prevailed on 100 per cent of land and 20 per cent of improvements, the total amount taxed, $5,034,957, brought in $211,463.16.

At a special meeting on Thursday the council will deal with estimates, but the view was expressed that the mill rate would not be set at that time.

A statement of receipts and expenditures for 1940 showed that the municipality had finished the year with a deficit of $16,807.53. While receipts were higher than estimated, actual expenditures were considerably higher than estimated.

WARD ASSESSMENTS

Of interest to ratepayers of the municipality was a schedule showing the ward assessments for 1941. Including land, improvements and buildings, both residential and farm, the figures for wards follow: Ward One, $2,405,915; Ward Two, $2,184,495; Ward Three, $1,923,380; Ward Four, $1,386,89; Ward Five, $1,419,735; Ward Six, $1,601,530; Ward Seven, $2,529,405; B.C. Electric and B.C. Telephone Companies, $107,534.

At the request of five municipal employees, Reeve L. H. Passmore brought the salary question before the council again. Increases were given to some employees at the last meeting of the council and those who had been overlooked then asked consideration last night.

It was finally moved that the matter would be dealt with further on Thursday evening. Councillor E. C. Warren was absent from last night's meeting.

Health committee estimates totaling $13,060 were approved by the council. Actual expenditures last year were $12,993.17. It was decided to call for tenders for a new coupe, and for applications for a half-time stenographer for the health department. It is the council's intention to trade in one of the present cars on a new one.

It was agreed that in future all permanent employees should pass a medical examination before being appointed.

MOTIVE

"You say you came to the city to look for work. I put it to you there was another, a stronger motive, that brought you all that distance." "Well," hesitated the defendant, "there was." "Ah!" cried the young barrister, triumphantly. "And what was that?" "A locomotive!"

"Been fishing?"
"Yes."
"Catch anything?"
"A 150-pounder."
"Well, I pulled in a lamp, and believe it or not, it was still lit when I brought it up."
The other looked at him for a while, and then said: "I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll take fifty pounds off my fish, and you blow the light out on your lamp."

Fairbridge Farm Gives Welcome to Governor-General

Red-Letter Day at Cowichan Institution as British Boys and Girls Cheer Their Excellencies—New Hospital Is Opened by Earl of Athlone

YESTERDAY was a red-letter day in the lives of the British youngsters at Fairbridge Farm School. They looked on with wide-open eyes as the Earl of Athlone and the Princess Alice visited them in their classrooms, spoke to many of them at their work benches and tables, and showed great interest in the various phases of their school life.

When they stood in a semi-circle outside the new hospital building listened while the Governor-General declared it open, heard him bade them keep fit and cheerful at all times, and cheered with a will when it was announced that at the request of His Excellency, they would get a holiday today to commemorate the vicereal visit.

Despite the rain which fell most of the afternoon, there was no let-up in the enthusiasm shown by Their Excellencies as they moved about from building to building chatting to the boys and girls and evincing a keen sympathy in the work being done for the young Britishers who are learning to make their home in Canada.

Accompanied by their daughter, the Lady May Abel Smith, and attended by members of their entourage, the Governor-General and Princess Alice journeyed leisurely from Government House to the farm school. They took basket lunches with them, intending to picnic en route, but the inclement weather caused them to lunch instead at the Mill Bay Inn. A motorcycle escort and car, with Provincial Police officers under Inspector Robert Owens, preceded the cars bearing the viceregal party.

MET BY PRINCIPAL

Their Excellencies arrived at the school about 2.30 p.m. and were received by Colonel H. T. Logan, school principal; Mrs. Logan, Hon. John Hart and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., chairman of the British Columbia Fairbridge committee, who conducted them during their tour of the school buildings.

Greetings over, the party moved inside the main school building, where Girl Guides and Brownies of the school were drawn up, under Miss M. K. Broadhurst and Miss P. E. Wilkinson, two of the teachers.

After inspecting the young blue and brown-garbed girls, Their Excellencies visited each of the classrooms in turn, quickly putting the young students at ease by their kindly manner and sympathetic inquiries as to their welfare.

At the domestic science class, both the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice found much to interest them. Her Royal Highness spotted many jars of preserved fruit, which she remarked were very useful in this country. She plied Miss G. Cosgrove, teacher of the class, with questions about the life of the children, and after hearing about their work and play, told the teacher it was similar in system to some institutions in Great Britain. "This is a delightful place," the Princess said as she left the classroom.

The Governor-General showed keenness in speaking to the girls and asking about their work. He noticed and remarked on the stoves in the room, and had some of the youngsters smiling at his comments as he passed from table to table. Lady May Abel Smith also went round talking to the children and asking them questions.

In the boys' manual training room, the viceregal visitors smiled as the boys hammered away at pieces of wood and thumped heartily at the blacksmith's anvil.

ASKED ABOUT BOMBS

The Earl asked young Kenneth Braunton, of Devonshire, what his hobby was, and nodded approvingly when the boy said gardening. Learning that thirteen-year-old Peter Tearle came from Surrey last Summer, he asked him if he had experienced any bombing before he left. The boy said he had, and the Governor-General listened attentively while the boy told of the Nazi air raids. Their Excellencies paused from time to time as the manual teacher, E. L. Gower, explained the various jobs on which the boys were working.

The Governor-General and Princess Alice then went through one of the cottages to see where the children lived out of school hours, afterwards proceeding to the new hospital, built through the generosity of the Seaboard Lumber Sales Company of Vancouver.

HOSPITAL CEREMONY

A fairly large crowd gathered in front of the hospital for the official opening ceremonies, conducted under the chairmanship of Colonel Logan. The boys and girls of the school, bareheaded and ignoring the rain which fell steadily, stood in a row in front of the veranda, on which were grouped the viceregal party and school officials.

Colonel Logan welcomed Their Excellencies and said it was a great day in the history of the school to have the honor of such a visit. He paid tribute to the generosity of John A. Humbird, president of the Seaboard Company, and his associates, whose sympathetic interest had caused the hospital to be built.

Mr. Humbird spoke briefly and handed over the key of the hospital to Mr. Mayhew, symbolic of the gift of the building to the Fairbridge School.

In accepting the gift on behalf of the Fairbridge Society, Mr. Mayhew read a cable from H.R.H. Prince Henry, Duke of Gloucester, president of the society, in which the Duke sent greetings and thanks to the benefactors of the hospital. Mr. Mayhew mentioned the interest always shown by the royal family in the Fairbridge Farm School, and handing the Governor-General the key, asked him to open the building.

UNVEILS PLAQUE

The Earl of Athlone then formally opened the door, and unveiled a bronze plaque on the outside wall commemorating the opening ceremonies.

Addressing those present His Excellency traced the development of the Fairbridge system in the four Dominions, paying tribute to the vision of the founder and stressing the value of such institutions to the Mother Country and to the Dominions.

He had a few special words for the children, who stood attentively looking up at him. When he left England, he said, one of the things he had always intended to see was the Fairbridge School, and now he was enjoying the pleasure of being there.

He told them about His Majesty the King. "The King is my nephew, but he is just as much your king as he is mine. All his life he has been interested in young people, and when next I write to him I will tell him about my visit to you," he said.

HERE IN SAFETY

He reminded them that the King "spends his time talking to boys and girls whose homes have been bombed," and said he hoped they realized how lucky they were "to be here in safety."

The Governor-General said when they were older they would have a chance to help in making the world a better place than it was at present, and offered them a few words of advice.

They were to remember their Christian upbringing, he said, it should be their guiding star throughout life. They were to remember they were citizens of the greatest Empire the world had ever seen, in which rich and poor alike owed allegiance to the same king. They were to keep fit, take exercise and not be afraid of hard work, and to be cheerful at all times.

The Earl congratulated them on growing up amid such healthy surroundings, and wished them the best of luck always. "God bless you all," he ended, as the boys and girls raised their voices in loud cheers.

HOLIDAY GRANTED

Honorable John Hart, acting Premier, also spoke briefly in recounting the interest the Provincial Government had in the school. Before the ceremony closed with prayers by Rev. Canon T. M. Hughes, school chaplain, Colonel Logan announced that at the Governor-General's request the boys and girls would get today as a holiday to mark the occasion.

Their Excellencies then made a thorough inspection of the eighteen-bed, modernly-equipped hospital, going from room to room and looking at every piece of equipment.

Five little patients who had been forced to lie in bed and listen to the proceedings without seeing what was going on, had their reward when the Earl and Princess Alice spoke to them personally and inquired as to their recovery. They were Marjorie Arnison, fifteen, from Newcastle; Joan Buchan, eighteen, from Falkirk; Lily Clabby, ten, from Newcastle; Paul Conlon, eleven, from Newcastle; and John Mead, thirteen, from London; and their faces beamed with pleasure after the viceregal visitors left their rooms.

AFTERNOON TEA

Following the hospital inspection, Their Excellencies visited more of the cottages, the farm buildings, and the chapel, afterwards returning to the school dining-room for afternoon tea before returning to Victoria.

Among the school officials present for the ceremonies were the following members of the Fairbridge (B.C.) committee: J. A. Bishop, Kelowna; Leo Grogan, Victoria; P. B. Fowler, Victoria; Arthur Henry, Vancouver; E. F. Sowley and Hugh Savage, Duncan. Lieut. Alan Chambers, M.P. for Nanaimo, was also present with Mrs. Chambers.

NIGHT SCHOOL CLASSES FINISH

Exhibition of Work Done During Term Concludes Successful Year

School is out for hundreds of Victoria's "adult students" who have been supplementing their educations at night school since last Autumn. Closing exercises were held Monday evening in the west portion and annexes of Central Junior High School, and work of the "students" went on exhibition before large crowds who strolled through the buildings from 8 p.m. until 9:30 o'clock. Graduates also received their certificates.

But very few of the pupils packed up school books when they said good-bye to their instructors. It was a case of putting away woodworking and machine tools, sewing machines and scissors, metal cutters, drawing boards and paints and various and sundry utensils used during the many city night school classes.

The work was generally up to the standard of previous years and many of the items on display were outstanding examples of clever workmanship and art.

In the main west building were the art exhibits; painting and drawing, under the direction of Arthur Checkley, and commercial art, taught by Will Menelaws; the electricity and armature winding groups, directed by K. Reid and E. J. Cox, respectively; dressmaking displays, directed by Mrs. L. Gibson and Miss N. Gibson; photography, under Kenneth McAllister; pottery, directed by Mrs. M. Grute; dress appreciation, Victor Mott; journalism, F. J. Merriman, and machine drafting, supervised by A. Robertson and J. White.

The annexes housed the metal and woodworking departments. Here was the work of art metal students, instructed by N. Simister and G. Rodd; machine work, L. Omundson; sheet metal, C. Thom, and woodwork, R. Goldfinch.

George Anstey directed the night school classes, which were held in the Victoria High and Central Junior High Schools.

PROVINCE TO HELP SCHOOL

Fairbridge Farm Institution To Get $12,500 Yearly From Government

The Provincial Government is prepared to contribute $12,500 per year towards the upkeep of the Prince of Wales' Fairbridge Farm School near Duncan, it was announced yesterday by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance and acting Premier.

Mr. Hart made the announcement while taking part in the ceremonies incidental to the opening by His Excellency the Governer-General of a new hospital erected at the school through the generosity of the Seaboard Lumber Sales Company of Vancouver.

The Finance Minister paid tribute to the work being done in caring for British children brought out from the Old Country and given an opportunity to carve out useful careers in this country, emphasized the interest of the Government in the scheme, and declared its intention of giving financial support to the extent of the sum named.

In conversation afterwards with R. W. Mayhew, M.P., chairman of the British Columbia Fairbridge committee, it was learned that the Dominion Government is giving consideration towards contributing a like amount towards the running of the school. Steps are also under way to have the British Government make a similar contribution, and the balance needed for the maintenance of the institution will come from the godparents of the boys and girls in the school.

It is understood that restrictions imposed by reason of the war have curtailed money contributions from individuals in Great Britain, and placed operation of the school in a somewhat difficult position.

Urges That Canada Make Gift of Flour To People of Britain

Conservative Leader Suggests 100,000,000 Bushels of Wheat Be Milled and Sent as Present From Dominion—Liberal Member in Support

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—Conservative Leader Hanson urged in the House of Commons today that Canada make a gift of flour to "the beleaguered people of Great Britain." The flour suggestion came a few days after Mr. Hanson had advocated a gift of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Mr. Hanson proposed that 100,000,000 bushels of wheat be milled into flour with Canada retaining the mill feeds where they were needed for livestock.

The flour gift would bring Canadian flour directly to the notice of the British consumer, he said.

At present wheat prices, the cost of flour from 100,000,000 bushels at seaboard would be about $100,000,000. British authorities could be relied on to bear the cost of trans-Atlantic shipment.

Mr. Hanson said it had been estimated that 30 per cent of British flour-milling capacity had been put out of business by actual bombing while production was reduced another 20 per cent by the necessity of shutting down operations during air raids and because of other war conditions. Canadian mills, on the other hand, were free to operate at full capacity.

STORAGE SPACE LACKING

"We have a tremendous surplus of grain in Canada and, with anything like a normal crop in 1941, there will not be sufficient storage space. Much will have to be kept on farms and some will deteriorate."

A gift to Great Britain would not relieve the storage situation as it would remove only wheat Great Britain would have bought in any case.

At present, little Canadian flour went into British homes. The British householder obtained blended flour while Canadian flour went to the bakeshops.

Mr. Hanson said the flour could be shipped in fourteen-pound cotton bags, clearly labeled as gifts from Canada to British consumers and ten of these small bags could be packed in a large jute bag.

"I believe this would have a very permanent, beneficial result on the reputation of Canadian spring wheat flour in the United Kingdom," said Mr. Hanson.

FROM PEOPLE OF CANADA

Gordon Ross (Liberal, Moose Jaw) said if Mr. Hanson's flour suggestion were adopted, and he was not against it—the gift should come from the people of Canada as a whole. The western farmers should not be asked to contribute a larger share than other classes.

When wheat was delivered at the initial price the farmers got participation certificates which would entitle them to additional payments if C.W. Wheat Board made a profit. Farmers should not be denied that chance.

Mr. Hanson said he welcomed Mr. Ross' remarks as the first evidence of support from the Government side. He said theoretically the participation certificates had value but actually the initial price was the final price and the Government of Canada owned the wheat.

He hoped Mr. Ross would support his own suggestion that the initial price paid be raised to approximately the cost of production.

"Self conquest is not easy. Yet, once acquired, it brings to the individual the true joy of living."

BUS STRIKE DEADLOCKED

Maintenance Men Continue Idle at Vancouver—Services Still Suspended

VANCOUVER, April 1 (CP).—Strike of forty-four maintenance men from the garage of the B.C. Motor Transportation Company here which tied up the company's bus services to Seattle, Fraser Valley and other points, and halted service on five city feeder bus lines operated by the B.C. Electric Railway Company, remained deadlocked tonight.

Both sides said there had been no overtures for a settlement, and that there was little hope of reaching one in the immediate future.

The B.C. Electric bus drivers refused to drive when the buses could no longer be serviced at the strike-bound garage, where the maintenance men struck on Sunday demanding a five-cent wage increase. Pickets paraded up and down outside the garage.

SERVICES SUSPENDED

One by one the bus services of the B.C. Motor Transportation Company were suspended as the gas supplies of the buses ran out. These vehicles ordinarily are serviced at the strike-bound garage and the drivers refused to operate them if they were not serviced by members of the striking union, the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America (A.F.L.).

Early today Vancouver's hundreds of street railwaymen gave full approval to the stand of the bus drivers. Street railwaymen themselves are not affected by the strike, and the city's street car service is operating as usual.

NEEDS THOUSANDS FOR RADIO WORK

Air Force Calling for 2,500 Technicians—Untrained Men to Be Given Instruction

OTTAWA, April 1 (CP).—Royal Canadian Air Force officials said last night there is "urgent need" for 2,500 radio technicians—men who will be given a short intensive course in radio work in Canada and sent overseas to take their places in the ground defences.

The R.C.A.F. has been recruiting skilled radio mechanics to take these posts for several months, "but this source of supply seems to have been nearly exhausted," the announcement said.

The R.C.A.F. now proposes to take untrained radio men, provided they have passed their junior matriculation or attained an equivalent standard for this work. The age limit is from eighteen to forty-five, with preference for those from twenty to twenty-seven.

CALLS FOR SOUND HEALTH

Medical standards will not be as strict as for those entering the air crew, but call for "sound health."

Men recruited as radio technicians will be posted to a manning depot for one month's training and outfitting and then will be sent to one of thirteen Canadian universities where their technical training will be undertaken. The university course will last about thirteen weeks.

Radio technicians will be regarded as second class aircraftmen. Graduates will be reclassified as leading aircraftmen. Commissions will be granted to graduates of "outstanding ability."

"The German soldier carries everything before him," said a Berlin wireless announcer the other day. Field-Marshal Goering is naturally annoyed at what he considered to be a personal allusion.

WILL DIMINISH EFFORT

It is axiomatic that if this country's industrial efforts should at this time be concentrated on purposes that have to do with the winning of the War in the shortest possible time then there will be a certain diversion from those purposes when money and men and materials are taken away for construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway. A Governmental estimate, always automatically over-optimistic in such undertakings, is that with St. Lawrence development the power sought would be available by 1945 and the seaway would be opened to traffic in 1948. The argument has been put forward that the expenditure of the hundreds of millions of dollars involved would be a part of war effort (of defence) which indicates that at both Washington and Ottawa the idea is entertained that the War may last for another four years, or even for seven years longer. Meantime the proposal is to expend materials, time, money and man-power on an enterprise which is unnecessary from any angle for the safety of Canada. It cannot be otherwise than that such materials, time, money and man-power will be diverted from essential, immediate war purposes to the detriment of this country's contribution to the defeat of Hitlerism.

The New York Times says: "Supposing those who are guiding the destinies of Britain were asked whether the St. Lawrence power and navigation project should be developed now at all costs. Would they advocate it in preference to more planes, more ships, more guns, more direct material aid? We doubt it." The St. Lawrence scheme is an aspect of "delayed war effort" about which Great Britain has not been consulted. It is doubtful if Mr. Mackenzie King consulted anyone within the Empire. The inception of the present arrangement was due to personal talks between the Prime Minister and Mr. Roosevelt, President of the United States. Mr. King, when asked in Parliament if he or the Government had consulted each of the nine provinces of the Dominion to ascertain their views on the project, said the answer was in the negative.

The Prime Minister does not seem assured of Canada's case for the St. Lawrence Seaway project in this time of crisis. It is recorded in The Gazette, Montreal, that "in his letter of March 5, addressed to the President (Mr. Roosevelt), he called attention to 'one consideration of a fundamental character,' the growing intensity of war operations, the serious perils in prospect, and the consequent necessity for the most careful examination of any proposed expenditure 'from the point of view of public need and in the light of war requirements.' Mr. King asked whether, 'in existing circumstances,' the work should be proceeded with now. He proceeded to express his appreciation of all that the United States Government is doing to assist the British Empire, but he asked again for an appraisal of the seaway project 'at the present time in terms of its contribution' to the war efforts of the two countries. He asked that the project be again reviewed by the United States Government 'before an agreement or treaty be finally entered into.' The letter meant only one thing. It was a plea for release, and Mr. Roosevelt rejected it."

PROGRESS OF AERIAL WAR

During recent months there have been evidences that the balance of power in the air, as between Great Britain and Germany, has been redressed. Almost from the beginning of hostilities with Italy, Great Britain has enjoyed supremacy in the air over the Mediterranean. In his latest allusion to the Battle of Britain, Mr. Winston Churchill said that his country had won the mastery of the daylight air, and now there are indications that British air raids at nighttime over Germany and German-occupied territory are inflicting greater and by far more military damage than are similar raids made by the enemy over Great Britain.

It is customary in Great Britain for the Air Ministry to hold occasional conferences with the press. At one of these of recent date a senior R.A.F. officer said that the daily and nightly operations of the Royal Air Force, when weather permits, are the result of a long-range plan scientifically concerted. He pointed out that the supreme aim in the night-bombing was to concentrate the greatest force at the right time on the right place, "with a view to damaging or delaying German war production and obstructing the transport of materials." The extent to which the damage inflicted is reported is not guesswork. It is ascertained by photographic records and other sources of information. In connection with the manner in which Great Britain is moving towards the mastery of the night air, The Spectator says: "The R.A.F. is not wasting its time and its petrol on sporadic, meaningless attacks on anything it encounters. Its objectives are scientifically fixed, and it is hammering away at these day after day with results which we know are seriously impeding the German war effort. It is not out for a 'war of nerves,' but to do specific war damage—and in that way is hitting at the true nerve centres of German power."

POLITICAL CAMOUFLAGE

There was never a more ridiculous political camouflage invented than the attempt to show, for instance, as Mr. Mackenzie King has done, that Canada has pledged almost 44 per cent of its national income to direct and indirect support of the Allied cause in the war. What errors can be made in the putting forward of a myth of this character is illustrated by the estimate made by the Royal Institute of International Affairs, which calculates that Canada spends 22 per cent of her national income on war, or just one-half of what the Prime Minister says has been pledged.

The impression created by such statements is an entirely erroneous one. Much of the money paid in taxes is returned to the people as a whole in expenditures through contracts for war purposes, through the pay of those in the Services and in a score and one other ways. It all creates again, and over and over again, a part of the national income. The money invested in War Savings Stamps and Certificates and in loans is bread cast upon the waters which will return with interest in the course of years. Thus the figures as to what Canada has pledged, both those of the Prime Minister and of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, are worthless, because they are mere delusions. Mr. King no doubt sought to aggrandise what his Government is doing in the war. The better measure of this is the manner in which the money is being spent, and, having been spent, is borrowed again for renewed spending. The national income may not suffer at all, except to the extent that money is sent out of the country, and whatever is sent out is very likely more than compensated for by orders being executed within the Dominion for the British Government and because of other outside expenditures here, as well as any growth there is in exports. To the politicians at Ottawa the measure of war effort always seems to be the "almighty dollar."

POLITICAL EXAGGERATION

There is an old French proverb to the effect that "One weakens everything which one exaggerates." Something akin to this belief is expressed by Bacon when he said that "The speaking in perpetual hyperbole is comely in nothing but in love." Cabinet Ministers at Ottawa are not philosophers, and sometimes the impression may get abroad that they are not realists because it has become second nature to them to enunciate glittering generalities and platitudinous bombast. There is the illustration of this in what the Minister responsible says about the Empire Air Training scheme, which he describes as "the greatest experiment in human mass production, outside Germany, that the world has even known." This is intemperate language because untrue, and even casuistry could not offer an argument to support such a grandiloquent statement.

The few score thousand men being trained under the Empire scheme is a very definite contribution to war effort; but as an experiment in "human mass production" it takes a secondary place to what is being done for exactly the same purpose in Great Britain. It is secondary, too, and a long way behind the "human mass production" under the conscription plan whereby Great Britain has already summoned some millions of men to the colors. It is secondary, as well, to military "human mass production" in this Dominion. It is not well that official statements, or even expressions of opinion by Ministers of the Crown, should have to be taken with many grains of salt because of their hyperbolical character. Why cannot the Government at Ottawa get down to brass tacks and call a spade a spade. The people are getting sick of a diet of exaggeration.

There is one thing Mr. de Valera has not subdued among the people of Eire and that is their sense of humor. He has forbidden the newspapers of that country to admit that any Eireishmen are fighting with the British, but the difficulty is overcome by a columnist in The Irish Times, who, under the heading "Nippon Go Bragh," prints the names of nine British naval and military leaders as follows: General Wavell, English; General Mackie, Australian; General Wilson, Japanese (North Island); General O'Connor, Japanese; General O'Moore Creagh, Japanese; General Sir John Dill, Japanese (North Island); General Brooke, Japanese (North Island); Admiral Cunninghan, Japanese; Admiral Sommerville, Japanese.

TRUTH

Without doubt truth stands to falsehood in the relation of light to darkness, and truth is in itself of such excellence that even when it treats of humble and lowly matters it yet immeasurably outweighs the sophistries and falsehoods which are spread out over great and high-sounding discourses; for though we have set up falsehood as a fifth element in our mental state it yet remains that the truth of things is the chief food of all finer intellects—though not indeed of wandering wits.—Leonard Da Vinci (translated by Edward MacCurdy).

THE LOST DIARY

Wings (22)

"The Lost Diary" would be recreant to its purpose if it forgot the men who kept the machines in the air; the unknown riggers and fitters who, day by day and often far into the night, labored over engines and wings, machine guns and controls. A pilot's life was literally in their hands, especially in fighter squadrons, where stray bullets might easily pass unnoticed and give trouble later. Minutely, inch by inch, the riggers inspected the sail surfaces of the machines after each flight; patching tears or holes in the fabric, tracing flying and drift wires to their turnbuckles, examining longerons, spars and propeller for unexpected twists or chips. The fitters overhauled the engine circuits; cleaned the sparkplugs incessantly, tested valve clearances, followed pipe lines and ignition wires over every part of the ships. When a ship's ground crew reported a plane ready, it was ready; and a man could stake his life on that. On service, the R.F.C. forgot its parade ground manners, and did a solid job of work in overalls and flying suits, often bespattered with oil from head to foot. It was so in 1917, and it will not be different today.

The year 1917 was one of great changes in design in fighting aircraft. Not all at once, but gradually, the Sopwith Pups gave way to Sopwith Camels; a faster machine, with anhedral to its wings and a vicious right-hand spin. Dolphins came out, like a larger edition of the D.H. 5, with backward stagger and a round hump behind the pilot's head. The S.E. 5 was a great improvement, and did its part to win for Britain mastery in the air. Sopwith triplanes existed before the Camels; but, though their rise was fast, their three-decker wings left a pilot somewhat blind in the air. The single-seater Nieuport and the French Spad for a time persisted; the former a clean-cut design with razor-blade lower wings. These were some of the single-seaters on the Allied side of the line. Meanwhile, the two-seater fighter was pushing its way to the fore. The Sopwith two-seater, structurally weak in the tail, gave way in time to the Bristol fighter and the D.H. 4, both excellent two-seater machines. The additional guns facing aft, and capable of being swivelled, made these types two-fisted, heavy-hitting machines, with a wide range of uses. The D.H. 9 and 10's, extensions of the same design, followed in due course. Engine power, plane speeds, range and practical ceilings were all going up. Machines no longer had to crawl to 15,000 feet, laboriously hanging on their props. German types changed less often, depending heavily on the Benz and Mercedes engines. German machines were roughly finished inside, with some evidences of hurried mass production; but, in the air, they were fast and serviceable, and heavy with added guns.

The prevalence of two-seater fighters brought a change in aerial tactics. Scouts could no longer tackle a machine from the tail, in the face of rear guns. Machines now were vulnerable mainly from the wing-tips; using the wings themselves to mask the guns of the machine. Attacks were made from the port or starboard quarter, either under or over the main wings. Action in the air speeded up considerably. Single flight patrols gave way to roving patrols of up to a full squadron in strength. Later still, massed squadrons flew in wing formation; usually against troops in open operations on the ground. Under 1,000 feet planes were vulnerable to ground fire; particularly to the haphazard fire of riflemen. There were few blank spots left in the sky between surface levels and as high as 18,000 feet. The cubic ocean was being patrolled at all levels. "Q" Squadron took the situation philosophically. It was all part of the day's work. If it hated to see the Pups go, the Camels were faster in the air and more easily manouevred. The S.E. 5's, when they came, were a very long step forward. For the first time in "Q" Squadron's memory, it had machines faster than those of the Hun; and that was a new experience on the Western Front.

GIRLS MAKE HISTORY

ADELAIDE, Australia, April 1 (CP).—Three girl farmers, all less than twenty-one, made history in Australia by winning a big wheat competition. The girls, Patricia, Barbara and Sheila Molloy, took over their father's farm in Rosewothy, South Australia, when he died. They employ men to help till the land, themselves handling the business side of the farm.

Sports Gossip

Congratulations are certainly in order for Brother P. B. Whalen and his St. Louis College hoopsters, newly-crowned British Columbia junior boys' champions. Collegians went through their league and play-off fixtures without tasting defeat, and local hoop officials are busy thumbing the record books to see if the feat is an all-time mark . . . Reg. Clarkson, high-scoring forward of the champions, set what appears to be an all-time record, Saturday, at the Sports Centre, when he "potted" thirty-seven points. A keen marksman, and a grand basketball player, young Clarkson should go a long way in the cage game . . . And speaking of basketball, another former Victoria athlete has hit the sport headlines, this time at Brandon. This time it is "Sonny" Walker, one of this city's most versatile athletes. A member of the R.C.A.F. quintette, Walker was high-scorer in the Brandon city play-downs recently. The Brandon Sun speaks of the former Victoria player as follows: "Sharpshooting Bill Walker, ex-Victoria, B.C. Arrows . . ." Beaten 6-5 last Saturday at Vancouver, Victoria soldier ruggers will be out to square matters with their Vancouver "buddies," when the two clubs meet Saturday afternoon at Macdonald Park.—S.T.

Poor Navigator

Apparently one of the City Hall officials is not much good at making four-point landings. He placed two large truck tires against a brick wall on the city parking lot to prevent his diminutive automobile from sustaining cuts and abrasions . . . We heard two men felt quite lonely on Monday night when the City Council failed to hold a regular meeting. The men were the audience of two who always turn up to hear the city fathers in action . . . Judging by the weird fractions on the labels of tobacco packets, manufacturers hesitate to print the actual contents in ounces. The last package of "alfalfa" we acquired bore 2-21 pound, which is one and one-half ounces plus a few wisps . . .

A crusty teacher in an unnamed high school lost patience with his class when their thoughts turned to Spring activities rather than geometry. "I think," he sarcastically snorted, "the general function of the heads of several learned members of this class is to keep their necktes from slipping off" . . . From the Keating Squire, "Last week the teacher in our village school decided to delve into botany. After discoursing at length on the wonders of nature, she asked her class of youngsters, 'What produces the green color in leaves?' There was no response. Again she asked the question. Far down the room at the bottom of the class one of the smallest pupils had been frantically waving his arm in the air, but his gyrations were concealed by the bulk of larger boys and girls. Finally teacher noticed the twerp. 'Is your hand up, Jackie?' 'Please, teacher, did you think I was standing here hitch-hiking?' the boy replied."—G.B.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of April 2, 1891)

Shuswap & Okanagan R.R.—Mr. George Riley, of the Shuswap & Okanagan Railway, is in the city. He reports the work on the road progressing nicely, and that thirty-six miles of grading are finished. The track will be laid from Sicamous to Enderby about the first of May. Four hundred men are daily employed at the work, paid at the rate of $2 per day, and Mr. Riley reports that more men are needed, and all who apply get work.

Bad Roads in the Okanagan — The roads in the Okanagan district are very bad, and the settlers are, comparatively speaking, hemmed in. Freight hauled from Sicamous to Enderby costs $10 per ton. The farmers of the Okanagan and Spallumcheen can depend on having this year's crop transported by the Shuswap & Okanagan Railway.

---

Missing Steamers—The steamers Burt, of Victoria, and Velos, of Vancouver, are reported in trouble of some kind, the exact nature being in doubt. The Velos was bringing down two scowloads of lumber from Vancouver and, not arriving two days after she was due, the Burt was sent to find her and render any assistance if it was needed. Now it is reported that the Burt is on the rocks near Plumpers Pass, and the Velos has not yet been heard from. The Mystery went out to the Pass last night, and has not yet returned.

WHOSE WAR?

Sir,—"There is too great a tendency to refer to what we are doing as 'the Government's war effort!' It is Canada's war effort." These are words recently uttered by Premier King in the House of Commons when replying to criticism of Canada's war effort, voiced in the United States, according to press reports.

In spite of Mr. King's statement the general impression throughout Canada, strongly supported by the evidence at hand and by other statements of the Prime Minister, is that the present war effort in Canada is primarily a vehicle by which the interests of the Liberal party in general and the political fortunes of Mr. King in particular, may be increased and fortified.

During the last Winter political Federal campaign did not Mr. King impress upon the electorate that he had consulted the members of his Cabinet and that every one of them had stated that he would have absolutely nothing to do with a National Government? Did not Mr. King go on record to the effect that he would not give "a five cent piece" to any Tory provincial government?—though now he appears dissatisfied because certain provincial governments refuse to co-operate with him.

It is perhaps fitting that Canada is the only member of the British Commonwealth of Nations who maintains diplomatic relations with the Vichy Government and refuse to form a National Government for the unity of the nation and the wholehearted prosecution of the war.

WAR SACRIFICES

Sir,—There seems to be a strange lack of vision throughout the country nowadays; may I make a few suggestions for the consideration of our leaders?

Somehow or other our people must be led to realize that there really is a war on—a war of elimination. Either our civilization, or the totalitarian system must be eliminated and destroyed. We cannot hope to win unless we are prepared to sacrifice all that we have and are for the sake of our beliefs.

Here are a few suggested avenues of taxation, which seem to be practically neglected or some reason or other: Twenty-five cents per gallon on gasoline, 10c per quart on lubricating oil, 5c per gallon on fuel oil, to apply only on supplies for non-essential purposes. A 50 per cent tax on liquor, tobacco products, cosmetics, luxury clothes, luxury foods, luxury furniture and china; magazines, antiques, and all entertainments; 1c additional postage tax.

With these taxes in force, one or two things would happen; either consumption would drop immediately, or else the country would benefit greatly by increased taxes. In either case the people would become aware that there is a war on and would perhaps pay more attention to the expenditure of their money by the politicians; and in the first case, if luxury business were curtailed that would be all to the good, and would leave the way open for greatly increased war supply production.

One more suggestion—how about trying real conscription to fill up the vacancies in our forces; it would be much fairer than the half-baked system in force at present, which appears to be neither one thing nor the other.

Some of these suggestions may not be popular—but then neither is war.

CHALLENGE TO CANADIAN WOMEN

Sir,—With the arrival of Their Excellencies in our midst it is not inopportune to remind your readers of a truly remarkable address, if I may so describe it, of H.R.H. Princess Alice, given to the Women's Canadian Club in Toronto.

Here it is, as reported in The Globe and Mail of March 13, 1941:

"A ringing challenge to the women of Canada to do their share 'to prepare for the manifold tasks of reconstruction with which we are to be confronted at the end of the war,' was given by Her Royal Highness Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, to a capacity audience of the Women's Canadian Club in the Eaton Auditorium on Wednesday.

"'. . . So many of us older people can remember the hopeless chaotic state of society and the wild extravagance that followed in the wake of the Armistice,' said Her Royal Highness. 'All the high ideals for which men had been fighting and for which we women endured so much, faded away in the great disillusionment. Ours was no land fit for heroes, but an exhausted, prostrate land, at the mercy of any one who chose to exploit it.'

"Democracy, which we are now fighting to maintain, at that time received a severe setback, she said. Instead of rising to meet and overcome the new difficulties and new problems, people drifted and left the field clear for the Bolsheviks, the Fascists and the Nazis, 'who, one after the other, raised their ugly heads and gained a large measure of success because they grappled, in a definite manner, with the very problems with which our democracies should have dealt.'

"Memory of past failure makes the prospect of the immediate future alarming unless we face quickly and courageously the new ideas, aspirations, reforms, systems of economics. Many people will say this is all very well, but these are matters for the State, she said.

"'But this is where we are wrong, if we are true to democracy,' she maintained. 'We, the individuals, are the State. We choose certain individuals whom we consider fit persons to represent us in the Government and to carry out the affairs of State for our benefit and as we desire they should be carried out.'

"'If we sit back and say 'The State will look after this—let us leave it to the State,' we should be no better than the Nazis, who have left everything to the State, and that State has grown to be one insane man, who directs life, death, thought and speech,' she said.

"'We must air good ideas and evolve schemes of preparedness to build public opinion throughout Canada. For, without the backing of a sound public opinion you will get nowhere,' she warned.

"'I sometimes think that women of Canada—and as I am now making my home with you I include myself—that we women are leading this sheltered life far away from the cruel sufferings and painful insecurity and sleeplessness of the women of Britain, and yet near enough for our hearts to beat in unison with theirs, in order that we may not only plan a progressive and workable future for Canada, but contribute something very definite toward helping them solve their problems in Britain,' asserted Princess Alice.

"'Maintaining that it is just as true as ever that the 'hand that rocks the cradle rules the world,' Her Royal Highness said: 'Let us be up and doing!'

"'Unemployment, slums and disease, 'that nettle that must be seized firmly with both hands,' are problems and responsibilities of women interested in the welfare of their country, she claimed.

"'Canada is dependent on the creative urge in her people, and women must go forward creatively. Spinning and weaving days are over and a home of modern improvements allows for much leisure time. The creative demand is intellectual. Intelligent women will demand a higher standard in teaching, in nursing, in medicine, in law, in the church—in short, a higher civilization and a deeper, more satisfactory life for every one. 'The bridge table, the show, are forms of escape.' Intelligence is not seeking 'escape,' but reformation.'"

The time is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 20 feet to the height of high water as above given.

According to Culbertson

It goes without saying that logical and conventional bidding (really the same thing) produces the best result in the long run, but a bridge commentator would be something less than honest if he maintained that weird bidding never pays dividends. A highly amusing, as well as sensational, case of a horrible contract producing a magnificent result is reported by Travis White in his fascinating book, "Odd Tricks."

According to Mr. White, South, the hero of the piece, was a retired army officer, calm by training and temperament, who never gave away his hand by either look or gesture. As dealer, this man picked up the South hand, counted his tricks, and decided to pre-empt with four clubs.

Had that bid actually come out of his mouth the auction probably would have stopped at that point. West could not have bid his spades at such a high level and North undoubtedly would have passed to an opening four club bid. East would have done likewise. But by a slip of the tongue, South actually called "four diamonds," and before he even realized his error West had passed and it was too late to correct the misnomer.

North, of course, bid five diamonds, probably with the blissful thought that he had excellent support for his partner's suit and that his singleton club would be of great additional value. East passed, and now South attempted to correct his initial error by bidding six clubs. North promptly put him back into diamonds and South persisted to seven clubs, praying that his partner would "catch the point" and let him alone.

There is little doubt that North should have passed to seven clubs. He could not know that South had made a slip of the tongue on his first bid, but he certainly should have suspected that there was something wrong. South had persisted with clubs in the face of two diamond raises from North and presumably knew what he was doing. Be that as it may, North was of the stubborn type and once more returned the contract to diamonds. There was nothing more that South could do about it.

West made the lead that anyone in his right mind would make, but in this case sanity was at a discount, the natural selection of the heart king was ruffed in the closed hand and, probably with a prayer on his lips, declarer then cashed the diamond queen and led the four spot to the king. When the diamond ace dropped the last two outstanding trumps together it was all over. Declarer now could claim the balance with his solid clubs and dummy's fourth trump.

The amusing part of this hand was that seven clubs could not possibly be fulfilled even if the opponents failed to collect their two spade tricks on the opening lead. South could discard only one spade on dummy's long diamond and never could get rid of his other spade. Another remarkable point is that West could have led any other card in his hand except a heart, and the ludicrous seven diamond contract could not have been brought home.

A true curiosity of the bridge table.

CHIEFS PLEDGE THEIR LOYALTY

Indian Tribe Leaders Present Addresses to Governor-General

An interesting ceremony took place yesterday morning at Government House, Indian chiefs of the ancient tribes of Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland expressed their loyalty to His Majesty the King through His Excellency the Governor-General.

Garbed in historic costumes, with long wigs and blankets and anklets of deer hooves, strung together, the chiefs sang and danced for the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice, and presented addresses testifying to the affection they felt for the Great White Chief.

During the half-hour ceremony, the Princess Alice was presented with a beautiful buckskin and beaded bag, of intricate design in blue and white, by Mrs. Abraham Johnny, of the Cowichan tribe, and the Princess in turn gifted Mrs. Johnny with a handsome brooch shaped like a fish, the body being of gold and the fins and tail of tortoiseshell.

A Union Jack was presented to His Excellency by eighty-one-year-old Chief Edward Jim, of Saanich, and Simon Pierre, of Port Hammond, who acted as interpreter, read the addresses of loyalty.

EARL SPOKE BRIEFLY

The Earl of Athlone was introduced to the Indians by R. H. Moore, Indian agent at Duncan, and shook hands with each of them and chatted about Indian life. He spoke briefly to the gathering and told them of the happy memories the King and Queen had of their visit to Canada.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber watched the proceedings with members of the viceregal entourage, and Lady May Abel Smith was an interested spectator, busying herself taking movies of the ceremony.

Among the Indians presented to His Excellency were Chief Joe Bartleman, of Saanich; Chief Edward Jim, of Saanich; Chief Alec Peter, of the Songhees; Chief Louie Pelkey, of Saanich; Chief Edward Joe, of Esquimalt; Angus Smith, William Paul and Walter Elliott (the three war dancers); Chief Tommy Modeste, of the Cowichans; Chief Alec Peter, of the Malahats; Steele Harry, of Mill Bay; Chief Paul White, of the Nanaimos; Simon Tommy and Marshall Pelkey, of Saanich.

Indians Visit the Governor-General

In the top picture His Excellency the Governor-General is seen accepting a Union Jack from Chief Edward Jim, of Saanich, as a pledge of loyalty, at a picturesque ceremony yesterday morning at Government House. The Princess Alice is behind the Earl of Athlone, and next to the Indian chief is the figure of Simon Pierre, of Port Hammond, who acted as interpreter. Bottom picture shows Mrs. Abraham Johnny, of the Cowichan tribe, who presented a beaded bag to Her Royal Highness, standing with two other gaily-garbed chiefs.

AUTHORS COULD UNIFY COUNTRY

Canadian Writers Must Rouse National Consciousness, Meeting Told

The task of present-day Canadian writers is to strengthen national unity and to refute the charge that "Canada is an exciting country about which her people are notably unexcited," Eric Gaskell, of Ottawa, national secretary of the Canadian Authors' Association, told a special meeting of its Victoria and Island branch in the Empress Hotel Monday night.

While the activities of the Canadian Authors' Association are limited by geographical distances and financial stringencies, it is recognized as the official voice of the country's writers, and branch members should regard it as a national organization and not merely as a group of local literary societies, Mr. Gaskell said.

CREATING AUDIENCE

One of the association's objects is to build up a receptive audience in Canada for the works of members. To belong to the organization is a form of literary insurance, Mr. Gaskell pointed out in detailing the services it afforded.

In the past year the association had offered its facilities to French-Canadian authors and the collaboration is promoting cultural harmony between them and their English colleagues, Mr. Gaskell told the branch.

NEED TRAINED CRITICS

"The need in Canada is not more writers, but more intelligent readers, and a trained school of literary criticism," Mr. Gaskell said in closing his address. "Writers can assist in establishing on this continent a strong and tolerant society dedicated to the preservation of freedom." The necessity for writings promoting that ideal were never more pressing than today.

Mrs. Myrtle Lane, president of the Victoria and Island branch, introduced Mr. Gaskell and thanked him for his address. Dr. Duncan Campbell Scott, noted Ottawa author, was a guest at the meeting.

Record Shocks Of Earthquake

Judged to be some 1,400 miles distant in a westerly direction, an earthquake of severe proportions was recorded on the instruments at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Little Saanich Mountain yesterday morning. Other observatories also registered earthquake shocks, with the Saskatoon seismograph attaining maximum registration at 4:04, with the centre judged to be 7,100 miles distant in an undetermined direction.

The University of Washington instruments at Seattle registered a shock at 2:48 yesterday morning, estimated to be some 1,800 miles distant in an undetermined direction.

"UNBEARABLE" BIDDING

TOKIO, April 1 (CP).—Five northern fishing sites formerly used by the Japanese Nechiro Marine Industry Company were reported here today to have gone to Soviet fishermen at an auction at Vladivostok yesterday. The Tokio newspaper Hochi termed results of the bidding "unbearable," and said it was expected "the Japanese will conduct negotiations with the Soviet in some appropriate manner."

INSURANCE IN B.C. REPORTED

Life and Automobile Policies Both Gained in Volume During 1940

Life and automobile insurances in force in the province during 1940 were reported yesterday by H. G. Garrett, superintendent of insurance for British Columbia. Life insurance in effect for British Columbia citizens increased from $455,952,541 to $468,542,135 during the year, with $56,713,100 as the amount of new policies, and $14,946,321 paid in premiums.

Disbursements under life and other personal policies exceeded $12,500,000, with $5,228,066 paid in maturity or death claims, and $7,339,697 in other disbursements during the year. Unsettled claims were less than $5,000 at the year's end.

Life insurance companies reported a total of $94,009,950 remaining on investment within British Columbia, of which $27,297,049 was held in mortgages and $66,712,901 in other securities in the province.

Automobile insurance firms reported a total of $2,708,195 in motor vehicle premiums written, and $1,219,192 paid out in net losses during the year. This compared with $2,458,718 in premiums written, and $1,228,703 in losses paid in the year 1939.

Both reports were subject to final correction when the last returns are filed for the calendar year 1940.

Has Leg Broken When Cycle Hit

Gerhart Hansen, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sverre Hansen, Sooke, suffered a fractured thigh bone late Monday afternoon when he darted across the road into the path of a bicycle ridden by a schoolmate.

Dr. J. Brown, of Sooke, who attended the boy, said that the mishap occurred at a curve in the road, down which the cyclist was coasting. The handlebars caught young Hansen on the thigh. The C. & C. ambulance removed him to the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

FLOWER SHOW ON SATURDAY

Variety of Blooms Will Be on Display in Crystal Garden —Judges Named

The first flower show of the 1941 season will be staged at the Crystal Garden next Saturday, opening at noon and closing at 9 in the evening.

On account of the early season, which is one of the earliest on record, instead of being strictly a daffodil show, it has developed into a general Spring show, and there will be a great variety of blooms on display.

The feature displays will be daffodils, primulas, anemones and wallflowers and, besides these, there will be numerous open classes for the individual varieties and also for the artistic arrangement of various kinds of flowers.

Among unusual flowers at this time of year will be roses, lilac, Oriental poppies and daphne cneorum.

The junior section always attracts many entries, and the alpine section is expected to be well filled.

Judging will start at 11 a.m. and will be in the capable hands of William Hamilton, Alex Mitchell, Mrs. J. A. Hibberson and Mrs. Keene.

At the conclusion of the show an auction will be held of the cut flowers from the displays. The net proceeds of the show will be divided between the society and the Red Cross and it is hoped that many visitors will attend during the hours that the show will be open.

"Quiet Day" Held By Local Clergy

More than two score ministers of the city and vicinity attended a "quiet day" at St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak, yesterday, conducted by Dean S. H. Elliott.

The Dean dealt at the morning session on the virtue of patience as a necessary quality for the Christian minister, and how weariness of mind and spirit could be overcome. He also spoke of the danger of ministers being too busy for their great work.

In the afternoon, Dean Elliott recalled that it was All Fools' Day, and adjured his hearers to become fools for God's sake. The Christian fool would imply perfect humility, selflessness and unworldliness, qualities essential to the Christian life.

Nazis Take Pick of Goods Destined for Unoccupied France

Minister Tells House Britain Negotiating With United States on Question of Tightening Embargo—Italy Also Reported Getting Share

LONDON, April 2 (CP)—The Government today charged that the Germans "take their pick" of cargoes entering Marseille, Mediterranean port in unoccupied France, and disclosed it is negotiating with United States on the delicate question of tightening the embargo on its former French ally.

Hugh Dalton, Minister of Economic Warfare, told the House of Commons that figures "purporting to be official" show that in December and January alone 450 vessels with cargoes of about 600,000 tons entered Marseille.

"Large numbers of reports from a variety of sources leave no doubt that the Germans take their pick of all incoming cargoes, while the Italians are permitted to take smaller picks," he said.

"Nearly all these reports indicate that more than half of such imports are taken by the Nazis. Many quote the proportion as high as 80 per cent."

AN ALLEGED GIFT

Mr. Dalton told the House the British Government is in communication with the United States Government on a reported deal, under which an "alleged gift of wheat by Germany to Vichy was part of a barter arrangement."

Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, had charged some goods which "the Vichy Government was to supply under the arrangement were to be imported through Marseille."

Then he asked whether Britain would revoke navicerts on two United States ships carrying medical supplies, vitamins and children's clothing to France.

Mr. Dalton said the Government had decided against withdrawing the navicerts, but added the decision did not imply navicerts would be issued for the "import into France of other supplies."

Questioners were able to obtain little information on interception of French ships and the incident on Sunday in which French shore batteries fired on British warships.

ADMIRALTY HELPING

Asked whether he was taking steps to stop the importation of food into France, Mr. Dalton said: "I am constantly in touch with the First Lord of the Admiralty in this matter and he is very helpful."

Mr. Mander: "Is it the case that French ships coming from the French Empire overseas are now allowed to pass unmolested through the Straits of Gibraltar and is it not about time that this was stopped?"

Mr. Dalton: "I informed the House that a number of interceptions had in fact taken place of ships seeking to enter the Straits. As the House is aware, a certain incident was reported only yesterday. It is not the case that the ships are allowed to pass freely through the Straits all the time."

DISLOCATES HIP IN FALL OFF BICYCLE

Peter Hansen, sixty-one years old, of 1160 Pandora Avenue, dislocated a hip in a fall from his bicycle at the corner of Dominion and Esquimalt Roads late yesterday afternoon, and was brought to the city police station by Gunner Stewart, of Signal Hill, who found him lying at the intersection.

The front wheel of Mr. Hansen's bicycle became wedged in the car tracks on Esquimalt Road, throwing him to the pavement. Police took him to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, where Dr. J. H. Moore attended him.

LONDON LOAN NOW PAID OFF

B.C. Treasury Retires Approximately One-Third of Year's Commitments

British Columbia of its own efforts retired $7,275,000 in 4½ per cent inscribed stock maturing in London, England, yesterday, paying the sum from sinking funds built up against the maturity. In the absence of Acting Premier Hart, who had gone to Fairbridge Farm School in the Governor-General's party, no formal statement was made at the Provincial Treasury. Mr. Hart had indicated earlier, however, that the loan would be retired at its due date, and this was done.

The money was borrowed in the English market under the Loan Act of 1914, and had borne interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. British Columbia some years ago established fiscal agents in connection with interest payments in London, keeping up full sinking funds on this and other issues of external debt. The transfer was arranged for some days ago, and went into effect yesterday on time.

HEAVY RETIREMENTS

Other maturing issues facing the Province in a $25,000,000 loan retirement year include in the immediate future $2,000,000 of 6 per cent bonds issued under the Loan Act of 1916, and maturing on June 15; $1,000,000 of 6 per cent bonds issued under the Loan Act of 1918, and maturing also on June 15; $340,000 of 5 per cent debentures issued under the Better Housing Act of 1919, and maturing on June 30; $9,921,936 of 3 per cent debentures issued under Loan Acts between 1891 and 1902, and maturing on July 1; $1,000,000 borrowed under the Department of Industries Act of 1919 at 6 per cent, and maturing on August 15; and $1,000,000 of 6 per cent debentures issued under the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Construction Act of 1921, and maturing also on August 15.

Arrangements for the full retirement of this and other maturities were announced by Mr. Hart in his budget speech to the Legislature, and repeated more recently in his speech before the Board of Trade at Vancouver. At the end of the retirements, British Columbia will be saved approximately $1,200,000 yearly in interest charges on the several issues.

Parsons, city solicitor, chief protection officer and Vancouver corporation counsel was held yesterday morning.

Found Guilty—Oliver W. Chamberlain was found guilty yesterday in the city police court on a charge of retaining a bicycle over the value of $25 knowing it to have been stolen from Thomas Alexander. The accused pleaded that he had been drinking and could not remember the incident. He was remanded until this morning in order to secure character witnesses before being sentenced by Magistrate Henry C. Hall.

Attending Conference — With the exception of Premier Pattullo, who may return via Ottawa later, British Columbia delegates to the Alaska highway route meeting at Washington, D.C., are expected back on the Coast on Monday, it was learned yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. J. W. Spencer, of this city, and Arthur Dixon, deputy minister of public works, are Canadian members of the commission, the sessions of which Premier Pattullo is attending as a guest.

Since the beginning of the year, 101 lots have been sold for $33,205, compared with ninety-one lots for $21,037 from January to the end of March last year.

ASMARA CAPTURED BY BRITISH FORCE

ported heavy damage by British bombers in both colonies.

A communique told also of renewed action in Libya — presumably Nazi mechanized units which have been sent there to reinforce the inactive Italians—but gave no details.

British advance elements were reported yesterday to have been in contact with enemy infantry and mechanized units in the Mersa Brega area, on the Gulf of Sidra about thirty miles northeast of El Agheila.

El Agheila was captured by British patrols from the Italians but later abandoned to the Germans.

The report was the first received in several days of movements in the campaign against the North African section of Italy's African empire.

BRITISH COMMUNIQUE

NAIROBI, April 1 (CP)—The British command issued this communique Tuesday:

"Despite demolitions our advance toward Addis Ababa is progressing rapidly.

"Our leading troops entering into Diredawa found the Italian population being injured by a large armed band consisting mostly of deserters from their own forces.

"The troops were only just in time to restore the situation and provide security for the Italian inhabitants but not before some Italian casualties had been caused."

The announcement of Asmara's capitulation came swiftly after the March 26 capture of Cheren, forty-two miles to the northwest, a mountain stronghold which 35,000 Italian defenders made a major obstacle in the British path.

The city of Asmara had been in Italian hands since 1889 and had come to resemble a city of Southern Italy—even to sidewalk cafes. It became the Eritrean capital in 1900, when the seat of government was transferred from Massaua, forty miles to the northeast.

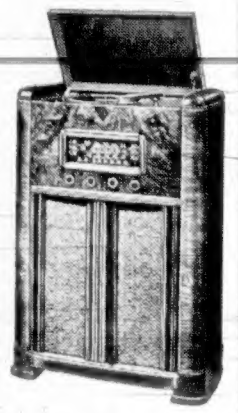

Of Asmara's last recorded population of approximately 98,000 persons more than 50,000 were Italians—the largest concentration of Italians in the entire colony.

WELL FORTIFIED

The city was well fortified and Fort Baldissera, on a hill overlooking the town, once had the reputation of being impregnable. A new airport recently was constructed south of the city and before the war regular service was maintained to Bengasi, Libya, to Rome, to Assab, Eritrea, and to Addis Ababa.

It was linked by rail with Cheren and Agordat, already in British hands, and to Massaua. The rail distance to the latter city is seventy-five miles. Motor roads radiate in all directions from the town.

Greeks Drive Off Italian Attackers

ATHENS, April 1 (AP)—Greek troops, defending a position captured the day before, drove off Italian attackers today and took eighty more prisoners, the High Command announced.

Dispatches from the front said that in the previous day's action the Greeks took 200 Italians in the central sector and wiped out two Italian companies.

Quartermaster-Sergeant (from the doorway of mess hall)—Any complaints?

Private Robertson—Yes, this stew is funny.

Q.M.S.—Then why aren't you laughing?

April Shower Of Dimes Is In Progress

The April "Shower of Dimes" organized by the Solarium Junior League was given an enthusiastic send-off last night when a programme was given from Radio Station CFCT and broadcast. Selections by the Royal Canadian Naval Band, starting at 8 o'clock, were followed by the reading of Clemence Dane's poem, "Trafalgar Day," by Laura Hunter.

Len Warner, of the CFCT staff, a former patient of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, who was interviewed by the radio announcer, paid a great tribute to the work which is being done on behalf of crippled children. He told of the treatments, the educational system, the recreations, as well as details regarding the financing of the institution, which, he said, was deserving of every possible aid and encouragement.

Next Tuesday evening, over the same station, Audrey Alexandra Brown, the poet, who was also a patient in the Solarium, will be heard in a broadcast. It was while she was at the Solarium that Miss Brown wrote her book, "The Log of a Lame Duck."

The Junior League will officially open the "Shower of Dimes" tomorrow morning when, at 11 o'clock at Government House, His Excellency the Governor-General and Her Royal Highness Princess Alice will contribute the first two dimes. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber will then make their dime contributions. Miss Andrew, the matron, will bring with her to the ceremony one of the little patients of the Solarium.

Smock for Working Ladies

By ANNE ADAMS

Pattern 4405

ARTIST—office worker—student—housewife—every smart woman-who-works needs a smock to protect her frock. Pattern 4405 by Anne Adams is especially easy to sew, with the instruction sheet to give you expert guidance. There's flattery from the very shoulder tops, with pointed yokes at both front and back. The boxy lines, gathered in below the yokes, make the smock easy to slip on over your heaviest clothes. You may leave the nicely curved neckline plain, or add one of the two attractive collar versions and a bow-tie. Both hemlines and sleeves come in long or short lengths. Ric-rac gives a cheery note of color at yokes, short sleeves and edging the optional pointed pockets.

Pattern 4405 is available in misses and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes 3 yards 35-inch fabric and 3¾ yards ric-rac.

Send 20c in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Send your order to The Daily Colonist, Pattern Department, Victoria, B.C.

RED CROSS

GORGE UNIT

The Gorge Unit will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the basement of the Gorge Presbyterian Church, Tillicum Road. All members are requested to be present.

SUPPLIES NEEDED

With cables from London, England, indicating that the Canadian Red Cross is pouring supplies into distressed and bombed areas of Britain, Red Cross women volunteers across the Dominion are urged to keep up their quotas of hospital supplies and woolen comforts.

"As always, our workers must keep closely in touch with their branches for information on the type of garments and the quantity required," says Mrs. H. A. Ramsden, chairman of the Red Cross work committee of the province. "If the million Canadian women who are Red Cross volunteers continue this co-operation we can match destruction overseas with production at home."

The Canadian Red Cross in Britain has been able to fulfill every call for assistance from any of the agencies distributing relief to bombed civilians, Mrs. Ramsden pointed out.

"Our society and the American Red Cross are now the chief sources of aid for clothing, woolen comforts and hospital supplies overseas. Since the first of the year, more than one million articles have been distributed overseas. I urge Red Cross women to keep up their quotas and follow instructions from their branches," she said.

Although Canada has been able to give unstinting aid to British air raid victims, Red Cross warehouses in England have kept on hand an adequate stock of hospital supplies and woolen comforts for any emergency needs of the Canadian armed forces in Britain.

CLIFFSIDE UNIT

A meeting of the Cliffside unit was held in the Red Cross workroom, Shawnigan Lake, recently, and a satisfactory report was given by the secretary, Mrs. W. A. Wills. The sum of $92.53 was raised and sent in to headquarters as the result of the drive in November. The convener's report showed that the total number of garments completed during the past four months was 141. This comprised sixty-seven garments for the forces and seventy-four garments for refugees, including four quilts. Further plans for the raising of funds in the future were discussed.

BOMB CAUSES PANIC

HAVANA, April 1 (AP)—A small bomb exploded last night in front of the residence of the Cuban Minister of State, Jose Manuel Cortina, causing considerable panic but slight damage. No casualties were reported. Minister Cortina was in his home when the explosion occurred.

SALMON LOAF
CAN BE MADE WITH CHEAPER GRADES
if you add a rich sauce

TAKE a tall tin of pink or cohoe salmon. Mash it and add a little browned onion. Blend in well, a tablespoonful of H. P. Sauce. Add 1½ cups mashed potatoes, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 2 teaspoons butter, ½ cup milk. Mix thoroughly and press into a baking dish. Cover with buttered crumbs; bake for 20 minutes in moderate oven. Serves 4 persons.

Cheaper grades of salmon are just as nutritious as best sockeye and the addition of H. P. Sauce rounds out the flavour so deliciously that everyone will remark on the fine taste of your loaf. You can use H. P. Sauce for many other foods. It greatly improves soup, stew, beans, macaroni, fried meats and fish, also salads and sandwiches.

Social Activities and Notes of Personal Interest

Social and Personal

Dance at Y.W.C.A.

About three hundred dancers enjoyed the social evening which was held last night at the Y.W.C.A. by all affiliated clubs, the proceeds being for the War Services drive. The lounge and downstairs rooms were gaily decorated with Spring flowers and blossoms, and the committees arranged attractive amusements for everyone, with bridge, whist, bingo, a fishpond and a candy stall. The baskets of candy added color to the prettily arranged stall. The general convener of last evening's successful event was Miss Kitty Cameron, president of the senior girls' council. Assisting the girls were Mrs. John Baxter, Dr. Olga Jardine, Mrs. Richard Felton, Mrs. May Cushing, Miss Charlotte Crawford, Miss Pat Kenmuir (who is here from Vancouver for a month, replacing Miss Dorothy Beech), Miss Blanche Alward and Miss Edna Auger, who acted as hostesses for the evening. All three services were well represented, army and navy uniforms being much in evidence, and many of the Air Force boys from Patricia Bay were among the dancers.

Spitfires Will Be Purchased By Golfers

Following the custom of holding a Spring opening day at the Victoria Golf Club, about seventy lady members and their friends attended a delightful luncheon party in the clubhouse at Oak Bay Monday, the golfers later taking part in ladies' foursomes, while others played bridge and remained for tea. Winners of the foursomes were Mrs. J. H. Wilson and Mrs. S. P. Birley, first, and Mrs. James D. Laurie and Mrs. R. C. Field, second.

The members and guests were welcomed by the ladies' captain, Mrs. Hew Paterson and members of the committee. The clubhouse was attractively decorated with Spring flowers, the tables in the dining-room being arranged with vases and bowls of daffodils and grape hyacinths.

TWO SPITFIRES

After luncheon Mrs. Walter Parry gave a few details of the proposal of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union to raise $50,000 for the purchase of two Spitfires. As there are approximately 24,000 women members of golf clubs throughout Canada, the average subscription required would be slightly over $2. The club members were enthusiastic in hearing of the scheme and promised to co-operate in every possible way in providing the required contribution.

Extracts of a letter from Mrs. Edwin Crockett, president of the L.G.U. for Canada, were read by Mrs. Parry, who is secretary-treasurer, and details of the plan were discussed.

Tag Day Will Be Organized For Hospital

Saturday has been set aside for the annual tag day in aid of the Jubilee Hospital and organized by the Senior W.A. of the hospital. Mrs. C. C. Raven is general convener, assisted by Mrs. J. Phethean, and members of the auxiliaries, both senior and junior, and many outside organizations who have the interest of the hospital at heart, will assist with the tagging.

The auxiliary is making a special appeal to the public this year for, despite other calls upon the public purse, the work undertaken by the hospital must be maintained.

The Senior Auxiliary has already given $2,238.40 towards the new addition to the hospital building, thereby considerably depleting its funds. In order to carry on, more money must be collected to meet the ever-increasing needs.

In addition to gifts of valuable and necessary electrical and other equipment, the W.A. continues to maintain semi-private and maternity wards, and provides layettes, hospital supplies and linen for the institution.

English Artist Exhibits Outstanding Paintings

The exhibition of an exceptionally fine part of Paris Fine, on the varied collection of water colors and etchings, the work of John Ensor, A.R.C.A., noted London artist, opened yesterday at 914 Government Street. Mr. Ensor, having traveled a great deal in Southern Europe, Scandinavia, and now on this continent, presents paintings that cover a wide range of subjects, showing a unique versatility of treatment, seldom found in the artistic world.

The collection now on exhibit is composed of water colors done quite a while ago, chiefly English views, many of which will be familiar scenes to Victorians, though from the brush of Mr. Ensor they have an originality of lighting effect and a quiet coloring that would almost mark them as the work of a Scandinavian painter. With an artist's eye for unusual scenes, Mr. Ensor has the ability to make a stormy sky, a moment's bright sunshine, or a solitary windswept tree a perfectly rounded and harmonious picture. Many of his works have a haunting charm and an atmosphere of waiting and expectancy. They all have a great deal of life and feeling.

LOGGING INDUSTRY

While staying on the Pacific Coast, Mr. Ensor has traveled extensively on the Island, on the British Columbia Mainland and all the way down to Southern California. In a group of ten water colors of the logging industry on Vancouver Island, he has combined the fresh appeal of the impressionistic modern school, with the refined finish of the true artist. This group, outstanding of its kind, gives a beauty and soul to one of British Columbia's industries, and will be a record of the modern age that will live long after the present methods of logging are gone.

Though the coast round Victoria has many times been painted and represented, Mr. Ensor, with the vivid virility so characteristic of all his work, succeeds in obtaining an entirely new atmosphere in his local scenes.

CONTINENTAL SCENES

Starting his artistic career in Italy, where he studied in Florence, Mr. Ensor still has a collection of Italian scenes, etchings, pencil sketches and lithographs, which he is exhibiting with his water colors. Here are many delicate compositions of views of Florence, one outstanding etching in this group being a moonlight scene of the cathedral where his treatment of light and shadow creates a calm and peaceful atmosphere, an almost audible silence. In all his Italian and the few French scenes, Mr. Ensor shows great understanding and appreciation of architectural beauty, and quaint views of the little French town of Dinan, of Bologna, of the Italian Riviera, and of Rappallo, all have an originality and charm that awkens the spirit of these Old World streets.

Perhaps one of the most interesting paintings shown is a night scene of Vancouver, with the skyline of the city and the shadow of the Hotel Vancouver, with its lighted roof top, in the background, and a number of dark old houses, hardly distinguishable yet so typical of a large city, in the foreground. Other views of the Okanagan, and one exceptional painting, a scene inside a Gray Line bus, showing the driver and the passengers' view of the front of the bus. A number of portraits complete this unusual and outstanding exhibition.

The exhibition will continue until April 12, and is open every day from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. A small admission is being charged in aid of the Red Cross.

I.O.D.E. Activities

R. B. McMicking Chapter

A bridge party will be held on Friday evening by the Robert Burns McMicking Chapter in Spencer's dining-room at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Frank Partridge is the general convener; Miss Connie Chrow will sell home-made candy, assisted by Mrs. R. Agnew and Miss Dorothy Lock. Prizes have been donated by chapter members. Miss Gladys Townsend will have charge of the door receipts and the proceeds will be in aid of the chapter's war work and educational funds. Final plans for the party were discussed at a meeting of the chapter last evening at headquarters, the regent, Mrs. Jill Lloyd-Young, in the chair. She was elected delegate to the Provincial Chapter annual meeting in Vancouver on April 22, 23 and 24. Miss Jessie Knight was appointed war-work convener, with Miss Connie Chrow as assistant. The sum of $10 was voted for British war guests. The war work done during the month was valued at $11.90 and 450 magazines were sent to Mrs. Quinn. The Colonist and Daily Times are being sent to the soldiers in Truro N.S. At a recent meeting a book shower was held for the chapter's adopted "isolated" schools. Miss Alice McDougall was welcomed as a new member.

Stocks Continue Rallying Move On Wall Street

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP).—The stock market today took another short step on the rallying trail.

While gains of leaders were confined to small fractions and minor declines were well distributed at the close, a number of specialties, including Canadian securities, were pushed up 1 to more than 4 points.

The Associated Press average of sixty issues held a net advance of .1 of a point at 41.6. Transfers of 433,730 shares compared with 435,610 the day before.

Canadian stocks and bonds were given a lift in the wake of reports the Dominion was considering an exchange agreement that would put the northern currency at parity with the dollar.

Sale of a Stock Exchange seat for $22,000, off $3,000 from a previous transaction at a new bottom since 1898, was far from pleasing to the financial district.

Announcement the British had liquidated further large blocks of American securities in March was viewed as encouraging.

American Car & Foundry preferred was up 4 7-8 at 65 1-2 as directors voted a dividend of $1.75 a share on this non-cumulative issue, first payment since April, 1930. The common gained 1 3-4.

BRUINS DEFEAT LEAFS TO EVEN HOCKEY SERIES

Military Teams To Meet Saturday In Trophy Match

Final Fixture of Home-and-Home Series for British Columbia Championship Scheduled at Macdonald Park—Changes Made in Victoria Squad —Kick-Off at 3 o'Clock

Beaten 6-5 Saturday on the Mainland, Victoria soldier ruggers yesterday resumed training for the second and final game of the home-and-home series for the British Columbia military Rugby championship and the handsome Army and Navy Veterans' Cup, symbolic of the honors. Total points in the two games will decide the series, with the ultimate winner taking possession of the silverware for the next twelve months. Kick-off is slated for 3 o'clock.

One or possibly two changes will be made in the Victoria fifteen for the crucial match. Lieut. Glendinning, The Canadian Scottish Regiment, and "Rep" forward, will play in the front rank of the scrum, and Sergt. Fred Smith, speedy wing three-quarters, may be included in the backfield. Definite word on Smith's entry in the series will probably be announced today.

Officials in charge of the game here are busy with plans for the event, and indications point to the fixture being one of the most colorful ever staged on the grassy surface of the James Bay enclosure. His Excellency the Governor-General and party will attend the match, and will be seated in a specially decorated box in the centre of the large grandstand. Major-General R. O. Alexander, D.S.O., G.O.C. in C., Pacific Command, will also be a spectator at the army classic and will start the game by kicking off the ball.

Net proceeds from Saturday's game will be used for the purchase of War Savings Certificates, and a special competition will be held to dispose of the certificates.

HARD TRAINING SESSIONS

Lieut. Campbell Forbes, coach of Victoria's "Rep" fifteen, announced yesterday that three hard training sessions will be held in preparaton for the return battle with the Mainlanders. Locals went through their initial workout last night at Macdonald Park and will train again this evening and tomorrow. Workouts are scheduled for 7 o'clock.

Victoria turned in a good exhibition at Brockton Point, going down to defeat in the final minutes of the keenly-fought fixture. Playing at home, the locals feel confident of reversing the decision and taking the silverware at present held by Vancouver.

The match has all the earmarks of a McKechnie Cup battle, with the cream of British Columbia's Rugby talent available for berths on the two fifteens. Mainlanders will have the choice of Vancouver and Varsity players from which to make their selections, while Victoria's fifteen will be composed chiefly of local "Rep" players.

With keen rivalry existing between the military units here and on the Mainland, the fixture promises to attract a record-breaking attendance at Macdonald Park. While the greater number of the spectators will probably be members of the services, but with such an attractive fixture billed officials are anticipating good support from civilian fans.

Milt Schmidt Beats Broda in Third Tussle

Handing the Boston Bruins a 7-2 beating in the third game of their best four-out-of-seven series, Toronto Maple Leafs took a 2-1 edge on the series. Syl Apps, captain of the Leafs, who had been off the ice with injuries for a month, made his first appearance of the series to spark his team in brilliant offensive play. Goalie Broda is shown sprawled on the ice after Schmidt, of Boston, rifled home the opening counter of the evening. Bauer, of Boston, is standing in the net.

HERBIE CAIN GETS WINNING GOAL FOR THE BOSTON SQUAD

Art Ross' Great Machine Turns on Heat After Toronto Had Taken Lead Through Gordie Drillon —Bauer Ties Score—Final Game Carded In Boston on Thursday

By WILLIAM H. DUMSDAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, April 1 (CP).—Defying threatened elimination from the Stanley Cup hunt, Boston's great Bruins came from behind in the third period here tonight to defeat Toronto Maple Leafs, 2-1. The teams meet in Boston again Thursday in the seventh and deciding game of the series to earn the right to face the Detroit Red Wings in the cup final.

After almost fifty minutes of scoreless hockey, a crowd of 14,890 fans saw three goals scored within two minutes and thirteen seconds. Herbie Cain, hero of the last series game here when the Bruins won 2-1 played the same role tonight. He allowed Goalie Turk Broda to move and then fired the winning goal past him.

The Leafs entered the game with an advantage of three wins to two, and the large crowd thought the series was clinched when Gordie Drillon scored a brilliant goal after circling the Boston net midway through the final period.

WINNING GOAL

Milt Schmidt and Reg Hamilton were in the penalty box for fighting when Drillon ended the scoring drought. They were still cooling their heels when the Bruins struck back in less than a minute to even the score. Little Bobby Bauer was the marksman turning to fire the puck past Broda after he had stopped Hollett's shot himself.

When the teams returned to full strength the Bruins kept pressing, and Dit Clapper started the play that gave them victory. He passed ahead to Terry Reardon and the young winger hardly maintained his balance as he crossed the Toronto blue line. Straightening up he lifted the puck across to Cain, who feinted Broda out of position and then picked a corner of the net.

The Bruins won the hard way, taking nine minutes in penalties to the five minutes the Leafs spent shorthanded. While Roy Conacher was serving time in the first period, and while Art Jackson was in the cooler just after the winning goal, the Leafs failed to direct a shot at Goalie Frank Brimsek.

CAGE RULES ARE CHANGED

New Regulations to Be Made Official Following Long Meeting

KANSAS CITY, April 1 (AP).—Basketball's rules committee in the United States yesterday recommended that the fan-shaped back boards and the moulded ball be used universally with the view that they be made official in the near future.

The decision was reached after a fourteen-hour session of arguments and debates. H. V. Porter, of Chicago, secretary of the rules committee, said that although 200 coaches urged adoption of the laced ball and glass back boards, a questionnaire brought out a different viewpoint.

In addition to their two recommendations, the rule makers revised other parts of the playing code.

The three-second rule was changed to apply only from the free-throw line to the end line, cutting off the upper half of the circle nearest the centre stripe.

In the future, a player may be substituted after a field goal is scored without cost of a time out. Previously, the change of players could be made without using a time out only when the ball went out of bounds or after a successful free throw.

Under the 1942 playing code the player in possession of the ball at the time of an infraction of a playing rule must surrender it to the official at once. Failure to do so will be a technical foul.

VANCOUVER, April 1 (CP).—Tony Olivera, recognized in New York and California as world's bantamweight champion, has agreed to risk his title in a bout with Kenny Lindsay here, April 15, it was revealed today by Lindsay's manager, Arnold Bertram.

Under regulations of the British Columbia Boxing Commission, Bertram, as Lindsay's manager, is not eligible to promote the fight. He is now negotiating for a promoter.

AL HOSTAK IS WINNER

Seattle Title Contender Stops Ben Brown in the Third Round of Fight

SEATTLE, April 1 (AP).—Al Hostak, Seattle, former National Boxing Association-recognized world middleweight champion, battered his way another step up the comeback ladder here tonight with a third-round technical knockout victory over Ben Brown, of Atlanta, Ga.

The fight was sopped as Brown went down for the third time in one minute seven seconds of the round. Brown weighed 163½, Hostak 161.

It was the second consecutive lightning knockout by Hostak in his campaign to regain the forty-six-state title he lost last Summer to Tony Zale, of Gary, Ind., and his first exclamation after his victory tonight was: "Just let me get another crack at Zale."

It was the first time Brown ever had lost a fight by a knockout or technical knockout.

Hostak won a bare edge in the first two rounds, but a right-hand explosion burst in the face of the taller, heavier and longer-reaching Southerner in the third.

FATAL ROUND

The round was barely a half minute old when Hostak's flurry of rights floored Brown for a nine-count. The big six-footer had come out for the round with a bobbing, weaving style, and Hostak turned him with a hard right to the jaw, then shifted to a better position to catch him while he was still wavering.

Brown was groggy as he rose and tried to cover up. He went down for a bare one count as Hostak's terrific left caromed from his shoulder and his head.

A dynamite right-hand blow to the jaw put Brown down for the third time and Referee Tommy Clark stopped the fight without even starting a count.

A sell-out crowd, estimated at close to 9,000, saw the fight.

CHAPTER LVII

A stocky rider on a tall bay horse, accompanied by a gentleman in city clothes, who somehow strongly resembled a bulldog, rode across the Jim Creek bridge and stopped at the cookhouse. Both men dismounted, but only Sheriff Crowder jingled his spurs across the dining-room to the kitchen where he found both Ike Skittles and Nancy Eleanor Elliott.

"Mornin' Ike. Howdy, ma'am?" greeted the sheriff. "Hi! What you lookin' at there?"

He saw only an innocuous can of beans, a faded blue sweater over the back of a chair, and lying on the seat of the chair a large brown envelope which had been ripped open, thus exposing typewritten sheets of white paper and several pictures.

"Mornin', Chalk," Ike Skittles drawled, reaching into his hip pocket for his plug. "This stuff is part of the loot which was stole offen this ranch night afore last!"

"You don't say!" ejaculated Crowder. "I got Tony's note, which is one reason I'm here . . . That's Maxwell's piece for his paper, huh? . . . Hey, don't pocket your tobacco till I get a whack at it, Ike . . . I got some dope myself. Yep. A brand spankin' fresh telegram from that feller in Philadelphia, Wm. F. Waller, describin' the crook he wants me to lock up."

"Uh-huh-huh," grunted Ike. "You lost the last 'un, I 'member . . . Here's my plug, Chalk."

Nancy had become quite still, as still as towering White Cap Peak itself, but Crowder scarcely noticed her. "If I lose this tel'gram no harm done," he remarked with a grin. "I memorized it. I did. Say, where'd this part of the stuff as was stole come from? Who got it? . . . Ike, what's goin' on up to that first cabin?"

"Uh, what is?" Ike stepped across the dining-room to look out at the door. Bluster my fetlocks! Sol and the missus, Maxwell and Slim, Tony and Barclay all bunched up thar! Hi, Chalk. Miss Farnsworth's come out and I heard her say kinda loud and mad, 'Ask Tony who I am. He knows!' . . . Come on, Chalk. Come on, Bobbie. Who's that as come with you, Chalk?"

Chalk Crowder neglected to answer the question. But he beckoned to the stranger who had accompanied him to the T Slash, and followed old Ike at a run.

Nancy, however, remained where she was, biting her pretty lower lip and staring at the torn envelope, sweater and can of beans that Mrs. Perriwell had left in the kitchen. "I found these where Barclay's car was parked last night," she had reported. "The car's missing."

Quite suddenly Cinders Malloy appeared at the door. "Even though I'm now a guest," he began, "I'll go on seeing if I can't master the art of milking . . . Bobbie, what ——?" His eyes had found the articles on the chair.

"Cinders, it's a showdown. I knew it would come, but I'd hoped against hope the securities might——" Nancy's voice trailed off.

"Showdown? I don't get it, Bobbie. Of course I saw the sheriff and another fellow—deputy maybe, though he looks like a city man—were here and half the ranch bunched at Miss Farnsworth's cabin, yet—what's that stuff? Why, it's Maxwell's manuscript and pictures! That blue sweater belongs to Maxwell, too. I used it to wrap up the stuff."

"Yes, Cinders. It's not—not my jewelry, and——"

"Bobbie, did—did somebody find this—this package where you'd hidden it?"

"Just what I'm thinking myself, Cinders. We'll see. We must see!"

Darting to the flour bin, Nancy plunged both hands and arms, bare to the shoulder, deep into the soft flour and from the bin brought forth a small bundle, wrapped in cloth, but so coated with flour it was impossible to tell the true color of this cloth or exactly what it might be. When she opened the bundle, exposed lay her own pearl necklace, her bracelet, her rings, her brooch, jeweled wrist watch, and lastly, well-filled envelope.

With trembling fingers the excited girl drew from this envelope certain stocks and bonds. She noted the value of each. The total ran up to $200,000! Here were the securities of the three Smith girls, Nancy, Elizabeth and Janet. Here also was $50,000 in stocks and bonds that belonged to Mrs. Pauline Stevenson Huntington-Smythe. The identical securities that Nancy had left in her stepmother's dresser in Philadelphia that night when she had left for Wyoming.

Nancy's voice was a husky whisper as she asked, "This—this is what you slipped to me to hide, Cinders?"

"No, Bobbie. I never saw——"

"What's going on here?" demanded Tony Perriwell at the dining-room door behind them. At his shoulder stood Smoothie Dick Barclay.

Nancy turned; Cinders turned. In appearance and feeling, they were the guiltiest pair ever to face stern accusers. And Tony was instantly the accuser.

"The—the missing jewels!" he shouted. "The stolen jewels! And the thieves!"

Barclay said nothing. Yet Nancy saw this man's chiseled features lose their impassivity. His eyes dilated, his cheeks twitched, his lips tightened; rushing blood crimsoned his neck and his face.

WILL FORMALLY OPEN WAR SERVICES ROOMS

Plans for the official opening of the war services lounge and dormitory by the Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, on Monday next at 4 o'clock, were announced by Y.M.C.A. officials yesterday.

The rooms, new additions to the downtown building, have been in service for the past six weeks, but formal opening of the troop services will take place under the sponsorship of the Governor-General.

Also attending the function will be civic dignitaries and Hon. John Hart, representing the Provincial Government.

NANAIMO NAMES RINK MANAGERS

Board of Five Given Charge Of Arena—Health Matters Are Discussed

NANAIMO, April 1. — The city council passed the Civic Arena Administration By-Law last night which gave five commissioners the nine acres of property on which it stands. Commissioners John E. Ryan, J. F. Edge Partington and W. F. McDonald terms expire January, 1943; terms of Commissioners Phil Piper and William Hunter expire January, 1942.

All officers are eligible for reappointment and a two-thirds majority vote of the council may remove any commissioner at any time. The aldermen will ask to meet the commissioners, whom they praised for excellent service since the building was opened, to suggest that steps be taken to give a banquet for the Nanaimo hockey team after the final game here. The council was of the opinion that since Nanaimo became a hockey city it had received the most favorable advertising in its history.

HEALTH MATTERS

Addressing the council on behalf of Nanaimo and District Health Board and the Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Eliza Bernard, urged the council to give its full support to a health unit for the Upper Island, to include an area south of Ladysmith to and including Errington in Parksville district. She mentioned the laxity in enforcing quarantine for measles and whooping cough, which she said had reached alarming proportions. Children supposed to be in quarantine were seen on the streets, riding in buses and at the skating rink. Her organizations, she said, consider a full-time medical health officer a vital necessity. Overcrowding of dwellings was also discussed. She instanced a case where seven families lived in one two-story house. They had children. Mrs. Mary Brown, of the health board, also spoke. The council promised consideration.

The City Council will present a plaque, or some suitable talisman to the new ship, H.M.C.S. Nanaimo, which, Mayor Harrison reported, would be in commission within a few days. To Mayor Harrison was given the responsibility to decide what form the souvenir should take and forward it with dispatch.

POLICE EXONERATED

WINNIPEG, April 1 (CP).—A report submitted to the city council last night by board of police commissioners exonerated the Winnipeg police department of charges of brutality in the arrest of Frank Hughes, taken into custody on a charge of drunkenness in August, 1940.

TIRED TIDE

"Please, can you tell me why the tide is not up this morning?" asked the little girl at the seaside.

"Yes, missie," replied the old fisherman. "It's because it was out all last night."

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 2 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 to 11 a.m.; from 1 to 3 p.m., and from 8 to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 to 9 a.m.; from 7 to 9 p.m., and from 11 p.m. until midnight.

The average person's disposition will be greatly influenced by giving proper attention to the maintenance of a balanced diet on this date. Poor appetite or a lack of nourishment may be reflected in their general attitude toward mankind. An empty stomach may be responsible for a feeling of despondency, whereas, a well-filled one should result in a sense of well-being. Self may be the average person's greatest concern, so do not be too surprised if you find the chief topic of conversation centring around the person conversing. Speed may be conducive to slovenly work if anything is worth doing it is worth doing well, therefore, the proper amount of time must be given to it. Married and engaged couples, and those who are hoping that their love dreams will be realized, will be wise "never to leave that till tomorrow which they can do today."

If a woman and April 2 is your birthday, experience will help you to gain a world of knowledge, which should serve you well. Remember, "Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone," so it behooves you to keep smiling. Be careful your spirit of independence does not lead you into making decisions which you will later regret. Do graciously the things you do not like to do and you will be amply repaid for your efforts. Bear in mind that nearly everyone has someone whom they would like to tell just exactly what they think of them, but fortunately they realize the inadvisability of doing so; thus, many a potential enemy remains a friend. As a teacher, author, saleslady, secretary, trained nurse, purchasing agent, musician, singer, as well as an office or business manager, you should find yourself in steadily improving conditions, with bright prospects to stimulate your endeavors. Regard your marriage as a partnership that requires your fullest co-operation, and your ultimate results should be most gratifying.

The child born on April 2 generally has, during its period of adolescence, a mental and spiritual awakening that is of an enduring quality, which adds materially to this youngster's future happiness. Originality and creative ability may have much to do with this child's future triumphs.

If a man and April 2 is your birthday, your confidence in your own ability to succeed should be so strong that nothing can shatter it. You may gain affluence and an enviable name through your activity in mechanical, scientific, educational, literary, theatrical, medical, legal, agricultural, horticultural, military, or artistic work.

SHIP BRINGS SERVICEMEN

Fighting Contingents Represented on Vessel Arriving At Canadian Port

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, April 1 (CP).—Hundreds of men of the Canadian and British fighting services arrived here today, some assigned to new duties on this continent and others returning to the Dominion on leave or invalided out of the fighting front.

With them came a contingent of United States flyers who have been ferrying planes in Great Britain and who have been assigned to flying new United States planes across the Atlantic. Many of the eighteen Americans had been in England for months.

Major-General C. B. Price, who will take over command of the Canadian Third Division, headed the Canadian arrivals. Several hundred Canadian soldiers, who had been with the Dominion's forces in Great Britain, came back with him.

Most of the Canadian troops had been invalided back, and some came limping down the ship's gangplank on crutches. Others among them, after receiving training under actual conditions of war, had come back to train the troops in Canada.

A detachment of about twenty-five seamen of the Royal Canadian Navy—including officers and men—returned to assume new tasks on this side of the Atlantic. They had been engaged in convoy work and other duties on the other side. Some had been manning defensive guns on merchant ships.

British naval seamen, too, were among the arrivals. They did not disclose what jobs they were to take up on this side.

A large group of recruits for air training in the Dominion arrived from Great Britain. With them also were Canadian flyers, some of them coming back to act as instructors.

FLYER'S DEATH IS CONFIRMED

Pilot Officer George Green, R.A.F., of Sardis, Killed In Action

CHILLIWACK, April 1 (CP).—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Green, Sardis, were informed by the British Air Ministry last night that their son, P.O. George Green, officially reported missing March 26, was killed in action with the Royal Air Force.

P.O. Green, who left here in June, 1939, to join the R.A.F., began his active service in 1940 as a pilot of one of the first reconnaissance planes in the Battle of Norway.

Returning from a reconnaissance flight, P.O. Green once made a forced landing after a seagull crashed through his windshield. He was temporarily blinded by flying glass, but after a month in hospital was allowed to return to active duty.

THIRTY YEARS WITH SERVICE

Captain Andrews, Port Accountant, Retires From Customs Department

Entering the service of the Dominion Custom Department thirty years ago, Captain H. B. Andrews, port accountant, retired on superannuation, March 31, his retirement being the occasion of a gathering in the Long Room of the department Monday night, when he was presented with a token of esteem by his late colleagues in the shape of a silver tray, and Mrs. Andrews was tendered a bouquet of flowers.

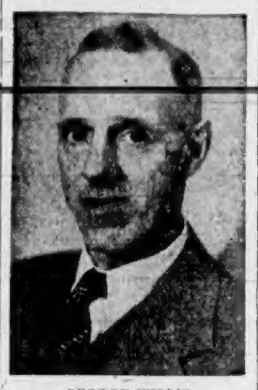

G. A. Yardley, Collector of Customs and Excise for the Port of Victoria, made the presentation and extended on behalf of himself and staff best wishes for the future happiness of Captain and Mrs. Andrews.

It was on November 1, 1911, that Captain Andrews became identified with the service, acting as preventive officer, following which he became computing clerk and subsequently port accountant.

Before entering the Canadian Government service, Captain Andrews was a member of the Imperial forces, serving in China, India, Crete and Egypt. Leaving Victoria with the 88th Battalion, Captain Andrews went through the first Great War, at the end of which he served as demobilization officer here and in Vancouver. On the completion of his duties in that capacity, he rejoined the customs service.

Left for California Over Week-End

GEORGE WILLIS

RETURNING from a trip to Alberta, during which he made some colored movies of skiing in Jasper National Park, George Willis left on Sunday last for California, where he is booked to exhibit Vancouver Island pictures to twenty-three service clubs and seven high schools. In addition, he will distribute the tourist guide which he publishes to hotels, auto camps and publicity agencies in fifty-two cities and towns. He expects to be away until the middle of May.

SURVIVED TWO SEA DISASTERS

Arrives Safely Here After Second Attempt to Cross The Atlantic

Miss Dorothy McMahon, Garden City, London, England, twice a survivor of Atlantic sea disasters including the City of Benares sinking last September when hundreds of English evacuee children perished, arrived on Sunday last at the home of Mrs. Herbert Johnson-Tighe, "Feltham," Gordon Head, where she will reside for the duration of the war.

Miss McMahon during her second crossing told of two successive nights in which the enemy raiders attacked the convoy of thirty vessels, during which attacks four of the ships were sunk. Fortunately the vessel she was aboard escaped unharmed.

HEARD ON AIR

On reaching the port of Halifax, Miss McMahon was immediately asked to relate her experiences on the radio network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in which Sam Robertson, Ottawa, prominent Canadian war correspondent, who made the journey on the same ship with Miss McMahon, was also interviewed.

Speaking of her terrifying experiences during the City of Benares disaster, Miss McMahon recalled how she was one of thirty persons who was in a lifeboat for twenty hours on the stormy seas before being picked up by a British destroyer and taken back to Scotland. Many of the lifeboats were capsized owing to the heavy seas, she said.

The women and children were very brave and orderly throughout the whole of the time, Miss McMahon stated.

Miss McMahon last visited Vancouver Island five years ago when she spent a short time in Victoria. She came from England in 1924 with Mrs. Johnson-Tighe and resided in Montreal for several years

TRANSFER OF YARDMASTERS

Canadian Pacific Announces Changes Following Retirement of Veteran

VANCOUVER, April 1, 1941.—Appointment of W. D. McLeod, general yardmaster, as assistant superintendent, Vancouver, succeeding George L. Phillips, was announced today by C. A. Cotterell, assistant general manager, Canadian Pacific Railway.

George L. Phillips

Mr. Phillips will go to Winnipeg as assistant superintendent of terminals in a series of changes necessitated by retirement of R. A. Gamble, superintendent of terminals at Winnipeg, who rounded out nearly half a century of railroading.

W. J. Pescud, Mr. Cotterell said, succeeds Mr. McLeod as general yardmaster. He has been assistant yardmaster at Alyth, Alta.

Widely known to transportation men and freight shippers is W. D. McLeod, who has been in Vancouver for the past twenty-two years, first as yardmaster; latterly, since January 1, 1938, as general yardmaster in charge of all yards in the terminal. With the company since 1905, when he joined at London, he served at Calgary, Cranbrook and Medicine Hat in capacities from clerk-stenographer to chief clerk to the superintendent and yardmaster before coming here in 1924.

George L. Phillips returned from overseas, where he served with the 72nd Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders, to join the C.P.R. at Vancouver in 1920. He left for Calgary shortly afterward, however, as an operator. He gained useful experience later as traveling car service agent for Western Lines, and was assistant superintendent first at Minnedosa, Man., later at Wilkie, Sask., before returning to Vancouver as assistant superintendent in July, 1939.

Men of the Vancouver division presented Mr. Phillips with a fountain pen desk set and a combination cigarette case and lighter, together with a traveling case for Mrs. Phillips at a farewell gathering in the office of George H. Baillie, superintendent, Saturday. Spokesmen included Mr. Baillie, Dan McLeod, for the engineers; George Patterson for the yardmen, and Jack Mason for the railway clerks.

PIONEER ALBERTA SETTLER PASSES

Mrs. John McDougall Saw Signing Of Treaty Ending Wars With Indians

CALGARY, April 1 (CP). — One of the first white women to settle in Southern Alberta, Mrs. John McDougall, eighty-seven, died yesterday at her home in Calgary. She was the widow of Rev. John McDougall, noted Indian missionary, who died in 1917.

Mrs. McDougall, who saw the treaty sighed at Blackfoot Crossing bringing peace among the warring tribes and an understanding between white settlers and Indians, arrived at Fort Victoria, east of Edmonton, on New Year's Day, 1873.

Leaving Fort Victoria, Rev. John McDougall and Mrs. McDougall took up missionary work among the Crees at Pigeon Lake early in the new year. Then in November of that year Rev. John McDougall decided that his mission was with the Stonies at Ghost River, which was the former name for Morley.

CRASH KILLS YOUNG FLYER

Vancouver Airman With Royal Air Force Dies In England

VANCOUVER, April 1 (CP).—L.A.C. Russell Horie, nineteen, of the Royal Air Force, was killed in a crash somewhere in England on Monday, according to a cable received by his father, Roy L. Horie, Vancouver.

L.A.C. Horie was seriously injured in a plane crash last September and had not long been out of hospital. He was believed due to become a pilot officer, but it is not known whether he had received this rank at the time of his death.

He learned to fly in Vancouver and received his private licence before leaving for Britain a year ago on a freighter.

L.A.C. Horie participated in the evacuation of British troops from Dunkerque. Once he was attacked by six German planes while flying an unarmed plane, but managed to escape through the clouds.

In a letter to his father, who is a surveyor in Vancouver, Horie said that when he joined the R.A.F. he was the youngest airman on active service in the British Empire.

FEWER VESSELS LOST IN WEEK

Total of Seventeen Ships Of 59,141 Tons Reported Sunk by Admiralty

LONDON, April 1 (CP).—British, Allied and neutral merchant shipping losses for the week ended March 23 were seventeen ships totaling 59,141 tons, the Admiralty announced today.

The total was ten ships and 35,261 tons under revised figures for the preceding week.

The losses for the week ended March 23 were ten British merchantmen of 24,940 tons; six Allied of 27,528 tons and one neutral ship of 6,673 tons.

The amended total losses for the previous week were twenty-seven ships totaling 94,402 tons.

(The losses given a week ago in the Admiralty report for the week ended March 16 were twenty-three British and Allied merchantmen totaling 71,773 tons.)

Pointing out losses in the latest week were less than the previous three weeks, an authoritative source nevertheless said:

"It would be unwise to deduce that our troubles are nearly over or that we have mastered this great menace to our ultimate victory.

"We must still be prepared for losses, sometimes exceptionally high and sometimes lower than this week's figures. It is too early to jump to any conclusion, but there is no need for alarm or despondency."

The average weekly loss since the war began is 65,000 tons, excluding ships sunk in the army evacuation from Dunkerque.

Training Cruise War Vessels Are Welcomed at Suva

SUVA (Fiji Islands), April 1 (AP).—Two United States cruisers and five destroyers arrived here today on a training cruise, and varied entertainments were arranged for the officers and men.

The city was bedecked with bunting to welcome the visitors, and dances, boxing matches, social events and other affairs were planned.

Service Heads Are Guests at Civic Concert

Heads of the army, navy and air force and representatives of the city were guests on Sunday evening at the weekly civic celebrations committee cheer-up concert held at the York Theatre.

Mayor Andrew McGavin and Mrs. McGavin, Alderman Duncan McTavish and Mrs. McTavish and Alderman W. H. Davies and Mrs. Davies and the three services' officers and wives viewed the show from reserved box seats.

A varied programme was presented, with both professional and amateur talent taking part, all of whom donated their services to the occasion. Mabel Irvine's Orchestra led community singing.

The popularity of these concerts was again shown as a result of the crowded house and the disappointed hundreds who had to be turned away. Words of appreciation for the work being done were voiced by representatives of the services to Alderman W. H. Davies, chairman of the committee.

Policeman Says Big Mud Shark Is No "Caddy"

While cruising late Sunday afternoon in his twenty-six-foot boat, The Skipper, Sergeant Sydney Wilkinson, of the city police, observed a mud shark, as long as his boat, about 200 yards off the breakwater. As his only equipment for catching it was a pikepole and a No. 8 spoon with some salmon trolling gear, Sergeant Wilkinson was unable to do anything but watch the shark's antics.

Sergeant Wilkinson's version of his encounter (with the shark differed from a radio broadcast which reported that Sergeant J. H. Petterson had seen Cadborosaurus at fairly close range on Sunday, and it appeared to be thirty feet long, with the head of a horse.

REPARTEE

It is French, of course, from the very repartie to depart once more.

It means literally, therefore, something like "Come again," and in both languages came to be used for a smart, ready, or witty reply.

In which connection the word recalls one of the most classic instances of them all.

It happened tbout two thousand three hundred years ago, when Philip II of Macedon was besieging the city of Methone.

Among the inhabitants of the beleaguered town was an archer named Aster, who offered to hire out as a mercenary in Philip's service.

"My aim is so sure," he explained to Philip, "that I can bring down birds on the wing."

To which Philip replied:

"I will take you into my service when I make war upon starlings."

His self-esteem wounded, Aster stationed himself on the city's wall and bided the opportunity to get in the last word.

Finally Philip was in just the right exposure, and Aster let fly an unerring arrow—as the note wound around the shaft read—"To Philip's right eye."

Philip completed this little repartee; when he took the town, he had Aster hung.
